At Seattle Senator Wesley L. Jones Hears Views of Washington Interests

Canada, Having Ratified Treaty, Awaits Approval By Senate of U.S.

Canadian Press
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 4.—Views of Washingtonians on the proposed Canadian-American treaty to establish an international commission to regulate the industry will be heard here today by Senator Wesley L. Jones. The hearing will not begin until well on in the afternoon.

Henry O'Malley, Federal Fisheries Commissioner, will explain provisions of the treaty. The treaty was ratified by Canada, but action by the United States Senate has been postponed because of protests of Washington residents.

The hearing was postponed from this morning until late this afternoon because of Senator C. C. Dill's absence. His train was temporarily blocked by the wreck of a Great Northern train at Index.

PLANE FOR NEW AIR SERVICE IS DUE ON SUNDAY

Eight-passenger Fleetster Machine Now on Transcontinental Flight

Edward A. Lowe, Head of New Company, Flies to Coast on Big Plane

On a transcontinental flight to Victoria, the eight-passenger Fleetster airplane of the Pacific international Airways Limited left Buffalo yesterday, according to word received here. It carries as passengers Edward A. Lowe Jr., head of the company, and his wife. The pilot is W. J. Barrows. It is due in Vancouver next Sunday, and will probably come here shortly afterwards.

Stops will be made at Chicago, St. Paul, Winnipeg, Regina and Calgary. The Fleetster will be the first of the Pacific Airways fleet to arrive in Vancouver for the new transcontinental service between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle. Two Fairchild Wasp 71's have also been purchased by the company, and will be shipped to Vancouver by freight. Regular passenger and freight service will be established on the triangular route, and planes will also be available for charter to points in the interior and northern parts of British Columbia.

PROGRESS ON BASE HERE
Work on the company's permanent air terminal here is progressing steadily to provide passenger, freight, landing and hangar facilities. Permanent terminals will also be established at Vancouver and Seattle.

The Fleetster is an amphibian-style machine with a cruising speed of 160 miles an hour, and a top speed of 190 miles. It is equipped with a Wright Cyclone motor, radio distance and direction finding equipment, and every type of blind-flying device for the protection of passengers.

LOWE TO LIVE HERE
Mr. Lowe has announced his intention of making his permanent residence in British Columbia, where he will direct the activities of this air-Canadian enterprise.

Floods Drive 100,000 From Their Homes in India

Shillong, India, Sept. 4.—More than 100,000 persons have been driven from their homes by floods on the River Brahmaputra, most of them near Bokoni and Lakhna, where the water has risen over rooftops.

COUNCIL HALTS BY-LAW FOR EXPROPRIATION OF LAND IN DARDANELLES

Measure Fails to Secure Majority at Second Reading After Objection Raised by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar; Long Debate Ends With By-law Laid Over; Council Splits Evenly on Vote; Five Aldermen Ask Referendum on Whole Plan Before Proceeding.

Division on the method of procedure on the Fort Street "Dardanelles" widening plan resulted in the expropriation by-law being technically defeated at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the City Council.

Two motions placed before the council in respect of the project failed to carry.

On motion to give the bill its second reading the vote was: In favor, Mayor Anson and Aldermen J. L. Mara, R. Smith, W. H. Cullin and J. A. Dewar; against, Aldermen R. A. C. Dewar, J. A. Worthington, W. T. Straith, H. O. Litchfield and E. S. Woodward. A two-thirds majority was necessary.

On a motion of Alderman Dewar, to immediately submit to the ratepayers a referendum combining both expropriation and the proposed road improvement the division was: In favor, Aldermen Dewar, Worthington, Straith, Litchfield and Woodward; against, Mayor Anson and Aldermen Mara, Smith, Cullin and Adam.

Alderman Alex. Feden was absent from the division.

In an effort to save the whole scheme from oblivion, a motion by Alderman Dewar to have the by-law tabled until the next council meeting was carried unanimously.

Objections to the by-law was expressed in the first instance by Alderman Dewar when it came up for second reading:

SHOULD BE ENDORSED FIRST
In expressing his objection, Alderman Dewar said he was not against the Dardanelles widening scheme but was opposed to the method of carrying it out. There was no doubt the work must be done sometime but he felt the whole question of expropriation, which would run the city into an expenditure of about $25,000 at least, in addition to the cost of development, should be put before the ratepayers for endorsement first.

"Undoubtedly the work should be done, and it will certainly help the city," (Concluded on Page 14)

TELLS ACTION OF RADIUM ON DREAD CANCER

Dr. A. H. Burgess, Eminent British Authority, Speaks to Victorians

Sees Vaccines and Serums as Ultimate Method to Check Disease

If cancer were more painful it would not be the dread disease it is. When cancer gains a fatal hold on a person it is usually because it was not caught in its initial stages.

While acting as a deterrent for the disease, radium is a very dangerous agent in the treatment of cancer.

Ultimate success in the fight against cancer will come through injection of vaccines and serums.

These were some of the observations of Dr. Arthur H. Burgess, professor of surgery at Victoria University, Manchester, and one of the world's renowned authorities on cancer research, in an address at the Empress Hotel to-day.

Dr. Burgess, who expressed himself in non-technical terms, was given a great ovation for his talk by a large audience, which included members of the Canadian Club, the Rotary Club and the British Medical Society, and the Victoria Medical Association.

He kept his listeners intensely interested throughout with his lucid description of the manner in which the dread disease, from "microscopic" beginnings, spread through the body and finally "strangled" it to death.

Many extravagant claims had been made with regard to the capabilities of radium in curing cancer. These claims were not looked on with favor, however, although radium was one of the chief factors in the treatment of cancer.

"Now, just what is cancer? It is not a disease, it is a condition. It is a given to a series of conditions causing uncontrolled growth, in the body," he explained, pointing out how, for example, like a parasite, finally killed the body. Dr. Burgess went on to explain, technically, the form of growth in body cells which became out of control, the case of cancer. Dr. Burgess said that cancer cells growing beyond ordinary bounds, would cause damage. If confined within their own cell walls, such cells were more or less not dangerous and were called tumors. BLAKEBURN FUND SPORTS UP, MORE IS NEEDED

Times' Subscription List For Relief of Eighteen Destitute Families Grows

$563.04 Has Now Been Raised But Provincial Total Is Far Short of Objective

The Times Blakeburn Relief Fund passed the $500 mark with a rush to-day, largely because of a $50 donation from the B.C. Cement Co. Much more will have to be secured, however, before Victoria contributes her share of the $40,000 sought by the committee at Princeton.

Five hundred dollars will feed, clothe and school several children for a year, but there are eighteen children, for several mothers and fathers and over twenty-five children who were dependent upon the earnings efforts of the forty-six miners who perished on August 19.

Much more will have to be forthcoming from generous citizens throughout the Province so that these grief-stricken widows and fatherless children may be enabled to make a new start in life.

Approximately $2,000 in insurance and a negligible sum in savings was left by the entire band. Much of this has already been spent, and many of the families are heavily in debt. The children are, with two exceptions, far below the earning age and the widows will be forced to bear the entire burden of their families for many years to come unless they receive help.

Following is the list of unacknowledged subscriptions to the fund:

NOTEBOOKS OF ANDREE ARE PUT TO TEST

Clearing Up of Mystery of Polar Balloon Party's Wanderings Is Expected

Scientists at Tromsø, Norway, Keep All Others Away From Arctic Diaries

Associated Press and Canadian Press
Tromsø, Norway, Sept. 4.—Examination of the bodies of Spionom August Andree and Nils Strindberg, resumed this morning by the Swedish experts, Professor Hedren and Professor Lillberg, produced a variety of small objects belonging to the two men but three little additional light on the fate of the North Pole expedition in 1897.

In Andree's pocket was discovered a box of matches, besides some trinkets identified as having belonged to Strindberg, who apparently died before Andree and was buried by him on White Island. Strindberg's belongings were recognized by his brother, a Stockholm sculptor.

BIOD SPECIMEN
The preserved body of a very rare Arctic bird, nautical tables and charts, all belonging to Andree, were found among the objects in the boat at White Island.

Clearing up of the mystery of the expedition's wanderings now depends wholly on the test, as yet undivided, of the Andree diaries and notebooks, particularly those found on the body of Andree yesterday.

The diaries are being kept carefully locked, and it is stated even the experts have not yet examined them thoroughly. Dr. Hoel, Norwegian scientist, said statements about them were based on rumors and guesswork.

POLICE OF SILENCE
Prof. Lillberg stated all members of the examining commission had sworn silence on their contents, and nobody else had been permitted to get near the books. The doors of the room where they are stored were padlocked and sealed Tuesday evening and the seals were unbroken when the commission started to work yesterday.

In addition to all other finds, the diaries will be turned over to the Swedish Government, according to Prof. Lillberg.

It is known nothing about Frank's death during the march (Stockholm dispatches yesterday reported that was narrated in the diary. I have had no time for studying the diaries. We have been busy preparing the finds, and if any other member of the commission had seen such a thing he would certainly have told me.

"Besides this all the members of the commission have sworn silence, and nobody else has been permitted to get near the books."

MINE LEADERS VISIT BIG WORKS IN MANITOBA

The P.A. Man., Sept. 4.—Delegates attending the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy met here to-day to discuss technical subjects following a visit to the Pilon and Sherrett-Gordon mines. The visitors were amazed by the rapidity of mining development in northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, finding Pilon a modern town with electric lights and other modern conveniences.

Manitoba's industrial future, as well as the development of its timber and mineral resources must depend to a great extent on water power, C. H. Atwood, director of water power for the Provincial Government, said in an address to-day.

CANADA INQUIRY SHOWS LOWER AND HIGHER PRICES OF BREAD

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Information relating to the price of bread is still being accumulated by the Combines Investigation Branch. As yet there is no intention to launch a formal investigation under the Combines Investigation Act. Senator O'Brien D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, said he looked for a lowering in the price of bread by voluntary action on the part of some of the baking concerns.

CHEAPER FLOUR LEADS
Bread prices in sixty-nine Canadian cities have been analyzed by the department. Out of that number the price now is lower in nineteen communities than it was in January, 1929, while the price of flour has been lowered in forty-seven communities.

As a decline in the price of flour must precede a reduction in the price of bread in order to enable bakers to utilize their stocks of flour purchased at the higher price, the minister looks for a further lowering in the price of bread as a result of flour coming into use.

SS. Coamo Lands Passengers Safely in Porto Rico After Violent Hurricane

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 4.—The liner Coamo, which had not been heard from for hours, arrived here this morning after passing through the centre of the West Indies hurricane yesterday afternoon. Several passengers received very slight injuries, but none were lost.

Captain Thomas Evans of the Coamo said the ship's barometer had touched "the bottom of the glass" during the time she was in the centre of the storm. It reached 27.5 and would have gone lower if it had been possible, he declared.

W. F. Gray, ship's surgeon, said passengers and crew members had received only trivial injuries. No bones were broken.

SA. LADY HAWKINS IN PORT
The Porto Rico office learned the Canadian National steamship Lady Hawkins, which put out to sea before the storm, had returned to port at Santo Domingo. The ship reported the wireless station completely wrecked.

From 8.30 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven hours and a half, the Coamo's engines were running at full speed ahead but the ship advanced only thirty miles.

At 5 p.m. the ship listed to starboard. The engineering force could not oil the machinery bearings. Chief Engineer McCough had to stop the engines entirely.

At another time the Coamo heeled over until it was necessary to pump fuel oil from the port to the starboard bunkers to help trim the ship. (Concluded on Page 14)

SCULLIN IS TO HEED NO CALL TO RETURN

Australian Premier Will Not Turn Back From Empire Conference in London

Canberra, Sept. 4.—The Australian Premier, Mr. Scullin, is expected to comment on the Cabinet's latest crisis at Canberra.

From the emphatic tone of Mr. Scullin's utterance, however, it is deduced he might refuse to heed a recall to attend him when he reaches Aden tomorrow.

DOMINICA DEATHS
Havana, Sept. 4.—Advices from Kingston, Jamaica, this forenoon said twenty persons had been killed and great damage caused on the little island of Dominica, West Indies, by the Caribbean hurricane of yesterday. The Dominican radio station was demolished, and almost everything on the island destroyed.

CITY LAID WASTE
Miami, Fla., Sept. 4.—Nine hundred persons were reported dead and injured to-day in the wreckage left in Santo Domingo by a hurricane which swept westward along the Greater Antilles during the last twenty-four hours. (Concluded on Page 17)

SHORTER WORK WEEK FOR MEN OF FIRE BRIGADES

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 4.—Adoption of a resolution favoring reduction in working hours in Canada and the United States featured two business sessions yesterday of the International Association of Fire Fighters, meeting here. Approval was given the three platoon system and eight-hour day, with one day off in seven.

ANCIENT SPHINX IS FOUND IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Sept. 4.—The department of education announced to-day that Boy Scouts had discovered a new archaeological zone in the wilds of the state of Guerrero.

Among the figures discovered is a large stone sphinx bearing a marked resemblance to that in Egypt.

Government archaeologists are on the way from here to study the zone which, according to the discoverers' preliminary reports, probably includes an entire buried city. A number of hills in the zone are believed to cover pyramids.

POORER BREAD

Another thing disclosed by the investigation is an increasing demand for a loaf of poorer quality than the normal standard of most bakers. This is considered a result of unemployment and shortage of money. Loaves of this type may be purchased as low as 8 cents for the pound and a half size.

1,123 PERSONS TURNED BACK AT NIAGARA BORDER

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 4.—No fewer than 1,123 persons were refused admission to Canada at this port during August, which created a new record. Many of those refused were out of work in their own land. Three hundred and fifty were admitted.

The adventurous driver has spent eighteen months in that wilderness and is confident he has blazed a trail over which he can take his car. He will have the assistance on that part of the trip of an experienced woodsman who will join him at Hearst. Supplies of gasoline and oil and spare parts for his car and food have been cached at intervals along his proposed route.

MOTORIST STARTS DRIVE FROM HALIFAX TO THE COAST OF B.C.

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 4.—Determined to complete a trans-Canada drive from Halifax to Vancouver without using a ferry or railroad tracks and yet not leave Canadian territory, Healy F. Needham, western Canadian newspaper man and veteran automobile driver, left at 11 o'clock this forenoon with plans to be in Vancouver Thanksgiving Day. Needham will have some 700 or 800 miles of virgin forest and waste land to traverse without the aid of roads of any kind.

The highway Needham will travel ends at Hearst, Ontario, and from there to Kenora he will fight it out with woods, boulders, ravines, streams and muskeg, taking his eight-cylinder roadster over what he hopes will some day fill the missing link of the Trans-Canada Highway.

EXAMINATIONS ARE IMPORTANT EXPERT STATES

But Must Be Set and Marked on Efficient Scientific Principles

Diplomas of Recognized Schools Reliable Index to Employer

"Examinations? Why of course they're important—but only important if the papers are set and marked in the right way."

This is the opinion of a competent authority, Jas. H. Beatty, M.P.P., manager of the Sprott-Shaw Business Schools, on a very controversial subject.

Examinations set and marked without regard to the true purpose of education are of little or no significance at all, Mr. Beatty holds, but tests devised and conducted by competent authorities are of the utmost value.

Mr. Beatty illustrated his point by reference to the modern practice of an up-to-date business school like Sprott-Shaw.

The business man of to-day, he said, avoided a constant turnover of employees as much as possible, because a constant shift of personnel requiring a constant process of adapting the talents of new members of a staff to an established routine involved a costly loss in efficiency.

DIPLOMAS A RELIABLE INDEX

Diplomas granted by a school of recognized standing were a reliable index to the business man of the training and ability of an applicant for employment. In appointing the holder of a diploma from a nationally recognized business school, the employer, Mr. Beatty pointed out, could be sure that there would be no loss of efficiency in his business through the necessity of dismissals and reappointments.

Sprott-Shaw is affiliated with the Business Educators' Association of Canada and with the National Association of Accredited Commercial Schools of America. Before schools are admitted to membership in these organizations they are rigidly inspected as to premises, equipment and the number and qualifications of the members of the teaching staff. Even their advertising must be approved by the board, which is charged with the duty of maintaining the highest standards in every respect.

BY BOARD OF EXAMINERS

Examinations are not set by the individual school, but by a board of examiners representing the entire organization of the biggest and finest schools of the continent.

The diplomas granted as a result of successfully passing these examinations indicated that the holder is approved, as fully trained, by the best educational authorities in the country. Such a diploma serves as a guarantee of ability to the employer, Mr. Beatty held.

Sprott-Shaw is the only school on Vancouver Island affiliated with these organizations.

GOLDEN AGE OF WOMEN DAWNS

Feminists Exult at Recent Achievements in Aviation and Science

London, Sept. 4.—Recent achievements of women in aviation, science and numerous other fields have roused British feminists to exultation and enthusiastic belief in recent newspaper statements that "we are on the threshold of the golden age of women."

Feminists point to Amy Johnson's flight to Australia and the winning of the King's prize at Slaley by Marjorie Foster, an English girl, as proof of their progress in aviation and shooting.

Miss Foster defeated her men opponents in the rifle matches recently staged at Slaley.

Feminists hailed the fact that thirty women are on the programme for addresses before the British Association for the Advancement of Science which opened its congress at Bristol yesterday, as another triumph for femininity.

These facts were before the City Council yesterday afternoon. The expenditure was debited to the engineer's department.

EVERY Probak blade has a built-in shock absorber that absolutely prevents edge distortion. You feel the results in an utterly different and vastly better shave.

Probak's shock-absorber incorporates two revolutionary improvements in blade construction—butterfly channeling in duo-tempered steel. Scientifically shaped perforations disperse the bending strains—provide channels for their escape. Specially tempered steel in the middle of the blade absorbs what little strain is left. No shock or distortion reaches the highly tempered and finely honed shaving edges. The blade is as keen in your razor as in the original package.

Prove these facts. Buy a package of Probak. Try two in your double-edge razor (old or new model). If every Probak shave isn't quicker, cooler, smoother—return the package and your dealer will refund every cent—$1 for 10, 50c for 5.

RUM ELECTION CHARGES FAIL

Walkerton, Ont., Sept. 4.—On hearing the evidence of the defendants, Magistrate Frank Walker yesterday dismissed the charges against W. U. McLeod, cattle dealer, and his son, Mirrell McLeod of using liquor to influence votes in the recent federal general election.

The case for the prosecution was based on the evidence of Provincial Constable McClellan, who told of examining Mirrell McLeod's liquor permit showing various purchases of liquor on July 14. The officer repeated certain alleged conversations with Mirrell about the latter's father being "organizer of the Liberal Party."
In the witness box Mirrell McLeod denied McClellan's evidence. The magistrate then ordered the case dismissed.

NEW SCHEME FOR CANALS OF
ST. LAWRENCE

New York, Sept. 4.—The New York Times in a special dispatch from Washington to-day says that B. C. Hawkins, London barrister, yesterday presented to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon a plan for carrying out the St. Lawrence River billion dollar waterway project by equal division of the financing between Great Britain and the United States.

The dispatch continues:
Mr. Hawkins said that after the conference that the plan was in line with the programme for development of the river credited to President Hoover.

"While declining to reveal to newspapermen the interests he represented and saying he wished to be regarded as present as only an interested individual, Mr. Hawkins indicated his plan had substantial support in Great Britain."

"The development of the St. Lawrence has been delayed in recent years through failure of the province of Quebec to appoint members of a commission proposed by this government to study the situation. This move by Mr. Hawkins made it appear that a serious attempt is planned to lift the question from that of a regional one to consideration on behalf of the mutual interests of the British Empire and the United States."

"Mr. Hawkins said he hoped some action might be taken which would put consideration of the St. Lawrence on the agenda of the British Imperial Economic Conference, which will meet October 1."

TRAIN WRECK

Engineer Believed Killed in Derailment Near Index, Washington

Seattle, Sept. 4.—One man was missing and believed dead, and another was badly scalded by escaping steam when a helper engine and three cars of Great Northern train No. 38, a fast mail train enroute from Seattle to Chicago, left the track one mile east of Index, Wash., early to-day, D. Moore, night chief dispatcher here reported.

The missing man was Engineer Homer Applegate. It was feared he had been caught underneath the overturned engine. Fireman Lavine was badly scalded, but was still living at last reports.

The cause of the derailment could not be learned at once. The Great Northern telegraph lines were destroyed by the wreck.

The train left Seattle at 10.10 p.m. yesterday and the wreck occurred about 12.40 a.m. Moore said. A wrecker was sent out from Seattle and officials said they hoped soon to have the line cleared. Physicians were rushed to Index, which is high up in the Cascade Mountains, from Sultan and Skykomish, nearby.

Passengers in the sleeping car routed to Wenatchee were not injured.

Police Hunt Follows Confession of Yugoslavian Who Is on Trial

Trieste, Italy, Sept. 4.—The Giornale d'Italia yesterday published without details the story of the confession of one of the eighteen Yugoslavian prisoners on trial here for terrorism, of a plot against the life of Premier Benito Mussolini.

The confession was not read in court and the newspaper gave the bare announcement by the authorities of the plot.

The belief was expressed the confession referred to the activities of terrorists who still are at large and that the government has declined to divulge the extent of its information of the conspiracy until further arrests have been made.

It was understood among persons close to police heads that the confession was made by Luigi Valencio, a native of Trieste, who, without disclosing the plot against the Duce's life, the man admitted crossing the Yugoslavian frontier a number of times and carrying into Italy subversive literature as well as bombs and acting as contact man between Yugoslavia and Italy. He said in the confession, however, according to these informants, that he was a mere instrument in the hands of others. He was the only one of the eighteen on trial who had confessed.

London Dailies Comment on Bromley Commons Contest, Won By Conservative

London, Sept. 4.—All the London morning newspapers comment in their editorial columns to-day on the Bromley by-election, won by the Conservatives, traditional masters of the seat, but by a greatly reduced majority.

The press as a whole calls attention to the debut of the United Empire Party with a candidate who, without organization or time, polled nearly a quarter of the total number of votes cast.

"One way of reading the figures," remarks The London Times in congratulating the Conservative victor, E. T. Campbell, "is to say they indicate a strong and proved desire for a vigorous Empire policy."

The London Daily Express, Beaverbrook-owned, says the by-election has shown there is but one issue possessing real political vitality and appeal, and "that is the policy of Empire free trade."

FOLDED HANDS
The Daily Mail, referring to "Redwood's (United Empire Party) remarkable achievement," says the Bromley result provides definite proof that the policy of folded hands is causing growing disillusionment.

The votes polled by W. G. Fordham, Liberal nominee, proved his party nothing but dead, says The Liberal News-Chronicle, which, too, admits the United Empire vote was "remarkable."

The Daily Herald, Labor, points out the silliness of the working class numbers in Bromley as explaining the low labor vote, and The Daily Telegraph doubts whether the United Empire people will do so well in the industrial constituencies.

The Morning Post, with lofty severity, carries its story under the headline, "The One-Crasher Third." The Post says "a decisive defeat" has been inflicted on Pethermer's design to split the party.

Special to The Times
Alberni, Sept. 4.—An auto accident occurred Monday on the Alberni Hill at the E. and N. Railway crossing. A man named McGuire and a companion with an Essex car drove straight into a box car of a freight train that was unloading freight at the Alberni siding. The car was demolished but occupants escaped with bruises.

OUR MEDICAL VISITORS

TO VICTORIA YESTERDAY AFTER-noon came a large party of medical men from Great Britain who have been attending the sessions of the British Medical Association at Winnipeg. Included in their number are specialists whose achievements in the realm of medical science are known far and wide. None the less distinguished because of the part they play in human affairs are the general practitioners. All are members on an equal footing of the great organization now nearing its hundredth birthday. Victoria welcomes them all heartily.

The birth and growth of the British Medical Association constitute an impressive chapter in the record of human endeavor. At the call of a Worcester practitioner, one Charles Hastings, fifty men met and discussed the status of medical men from many points of view, and the outcome of their deliberations was the formation of a body which went by the name of the "Provincial Medical and Surgical Association"—implying that the "country doctor" was entitled to be considered just as important a factor in this branch of science as the men who were drawing the larger fees in the metropolitan area astride the Thames. The organization was nothing if not ambitious from its inception. In the forefront of its objects was a determination to safeguard and advance the interests of the medical profession "through research into, and dissemination of, scientific discoveries; to aid in the advancement of medico-legal science through contact with the courts of justice; and equally to devote itself to maintenance of the honor of the profession." This was the little acorn from which the great oak has grown.

Host to the association at its meetings in Winnipeg was the Canadian branch—its product of Confederation year, with a membership of 164 that has since expanded to one of more than 4,000. Its task, however, necessarily was vastly different from that which confronted the organization that took root in Worcester thirty-five years earlier. The Canadian Association's career began with a concerted attack upon the problem of education, the provision of medical training. In many cases teachers were supplied from its own ranks until the universities included medical faculties. Many years ago the members of the Association recognized that their function should not be limited to the curing of disease, but equally applied to the prevention of disease. And the plane upon which the profession stands in Canada is best reflected in the number of native sons who have made important contributions to medical science in many lands.

There is an impression in some quarters that medical associations are so rigorously orthodox that they lean backwards; that their members do not keep abreast of the times and, therefore, are out of step with modern civilization. As to that, if modern civilization is mirrored accurately in the credulity with which many people accept the nostrums of Aimee Macpherson and her kind, and the offerings of quackdom under innumerable heads, then the medical profession must confess that it belongs to another age, an age when charlatans had to work harder and more skillfully for results. But modern progress can not be interpreted by these peculiar manifestations, and medical science is marching onward, as progressively and steadily as any other science, in an atmosphere of sanity rather than of hysteria and superstition.

The addresses delivered at the recent convention in Winnipeg must have given many of those who read them new conceptions of the attitude of leaders of the profession to the problems affecting the health and happiness of humanity. If the general public would take to heart some of the simple homilies which fall from the lips of eminent speakers they would benefit immeasurably. For example, it is reminded by Dr. Charles Mayo "that religion on the part of the patient is a human and vital factor in the work of the medical profession;" by Lord Moynihan that "the last empire to survive on earth will be founded upon love and honor, truth and charity, purest faith and simple duty;" by Dr. Hutchison of London that "to take no thought for what you shall eat or drink is wiser than to be always fussing over it;" and by Dr. Smith of Winnipeg that "health insurance is a vital need of to-day." There is nothing reactionary or archaic in advice of this kind; it is unimpeachable commonsense particularly applicable to the present generation.

A WRITER IN THE CURRENT ISSUE of The Nation calls attention to a by-product of the automobile industry which ordinarily goes unmentioned—the ruin of tempers and manners which the automobile seems to have brought to millions of good citizens. It is a point worth considering.

There seems to be something inherent in the mere act of driving an automobile that makes a man feel that he is exempt from all, or nearly all, of the common requirements of courtesy and human decency. It applies to nearly all of us, and in the last few years it has produced a set of road manners which would seem to justify the complaint that we are a country of barbarians.

Yet we are not, ordinarily, nearly as bad as we seem to be. Most of us, in the common round of daily life, are fairly well-disposed people. We have a fair amount of courtesy, we are not over-forward, we are quite willing to give the other fellow a break and to refrain from pushing ourselves to the front too blatantly.

Put one of us behind the wheel of an automobile, however, and what happens? Dr. Jekyll vanishes and Mr. Hyde comes tearing to the front, grinding his teeth, clenching his fists and muttering swear words. The mildest of men is transformed into a ruthless autocrat, demanding that all other motorists on the highway give way before him.

The way our dispositions change for the worse is amazing. We will put on an extra burst of speed to keep the other fellow from crossing ahead of us. With an hour in which to make a fifteen-minute drive we will jockey for ten-second advantages as if the fate of the nation hung on our speed. If some luckless soul stalls his engine, runs out of gas or encounters a mechanical defect that stops him in his tracks, do we offer to help him, or at least bestow our sympathy on him? Not much—we yell at him, and tout our horns, and mutter in our beards as if he were the most fiendish criminal of the ages.

THE SCOPE OF THE SERVICE CLUB

TEN CHILDREN CHOSEN BY THE HAM-burg Rotary Club to spend two-week vacations as guests of Rotarians of Newcastle, England, had such an enjoyable time recently that a reciprocal invitation will probably be accepted by Newcastle Rotarians next summer.

This brief item of news is from the September issue of The Rotarian. It is more significant for its implication than for its number of words. It emphasizes the many-sidedness of the activities of this vast international service club. The ten German children who spent two weeks in British homes probably were unborn or only tiny tots when the war broke out. No doubt they have heard a good deal about it and they may have formed their youthful ideas about it. But it should be safe to say that interchange of visits by children of various countries under an arrangement such as this would develop into a more potent factor for goodwill among nations than anything else.

Because the service club movement originated on this continent we have had so many opportunities of familiarizing ourselves with the very fine work the numerous international organizations are doing in the cause of friendship between Canada and the neighboring republic. The item from The Rotarian, however, is a reminder of what will be possible as the movement under its various titles gradually makes its influence felt all over the world.

THE HOUSEWIFE'S OPPORTUNITY

ARE THE WOMEN OF CANADA CON-tributing sufficient of their influence and co-operation toward the solution of the problems, particularly that of unemployment, of the present day? This was the underlying theme of an address which Mrs. J. A. Wilson, president of the National Council of Women, delivered at a luncheon which that organization held at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto the other day.

"It is not that we have done too much stress," Mrs. Wilson emphasized, "but what we must do. Let us women realize more that our work greatly depends on who supports us in our Legislatures. More and more must we see to it that our policies are sufficiently carefully brought out that we shall not see them turned aside." Mrs. Wilson characterizes the present unemployment situation a disgrace—something wrong with a civilization which is allowing hundreds of thousands of people to be out of work and without means of subsistence. She called upon all the councils from coast to coast to give serious thought and consideration to this question.

It should be possible to arouse the women of Canada through such organizations as the National Council of Women to a thorough realization that in their hands lies very nearly the whole solution of the principal economic problem with which Canada is faced at the present time. If every Canadian housewife, not to mention Canadians as a whole, would resolve forthwith to support every form of Canadian industry by demanding Canadian products in preference to products imported from other countries, it would not be very long before the 175,000 or 200,000 people idle in this Dominion would be at work.

There is nothing spectacular about this method of ending unemployment. It involves no deputations to governments, no scientific tariff adjustment. For a time it might mean that the housewife would pay a little more for some commodities than she is paying now; but as the demand for these products grew, production costs would decrease, with the consumer getting the benefit. Hence, if the National Council of Women and similar organizations throughout the Dominion would drop all their other business for twelve months and concentrate on a campaign of this kind, they would be contributing more toward the prosperity and general welfare of this country than Parliament and all the Legislatures combined could possibly contribute.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

REGARDING THE TARIFF

The Manitoba Free Press
If at the short session or the first regular session Mr. Bennett puts the tariff up into the clouds, no criticism can be directed against the propriety of this course. The wisdom of such a policy will, of course, be open to discussion; but Mr. Bennett will have a complete political answer to those who counsel moderation in tariff changes. It is that he believes in the efficacy of high protection; that he asked for authority to put his theories into effect; that the electors of Canada, fully cognizant of the situation, gave him this authority; and that he has an inescapable obligation to go ahead with his programme.

FINE DONATION IN A GOOD CAUSE

The Calgary Herald
Regret has been expressed from time to time that provision has not been made for the relief of veterans of the North West Mounted Police who have fallen upon parlous days. It remained for Mr. G. A. Allen of Ealing, England, a former member of the famous force, to take a definite step to assist such veterans through the pledging of $5,000 as the foundation of a fund which will be used to establish a home.

Co-operating with him in this laudable endeavor is the Colonel Macleod Chapter, Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire. With the splendid service and tradition of the force in mind, it is more than probable that an appeal of this nature will find a ready response in Alberta in spite of present economic conditions.

It is unfortunate that the North West Mounted Police had neither pension nor superannuation in the old days. The pay was never large and when a man retired, he rarely had more than meagre savings and yet had given the finest years of his life to his country's behalf. Any movement which has as its object the amelioration of conditions for mounted police veterans in needy circumstances deserves warm-hearted support.

A THOUGHT

But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all My statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.—Ezekiel xviii 21.
Many believe the article of remission of sins, but they believe it without the condition of repentance or the fruits of holy life.—Jeremy Taylor.

Loose Ends

A column of complaint on deep things—which are not understood here or elsewhere, but are easy to complain about.

By H. B. W.

THAT DOLEFUL business, the return of boys and girls to the confinement of their school classes after the freedom of the summer, must fill the thoughtful man, as well as the young, with depressing thoughts. For every man who thinks at all has very grave doubts about the wisdom of that education to which the young idea is being conducted once more at this season. And the reason that every man has such grave doubts is that he fears his boy may be developed by this system into a man like him, which he realizes is a tragic end for a promising youngster.

YOUR EXPERT educationists, of course, will not admit that an uneducated person, like this dependent, has any right to opinions on higher education, which is precisely like getting me an opinion on the fine Gravenstein apple which I am now in the process of consuming because I am not an expert horticulturist. They will not admit, these experts, that for the practical purposes of life I am as well able to judge a man just as for practical purposes of apples, I am able to judge their flavor by eating them. The point is that I do not know how an apple grows, which I admit, but I do know how it tastes when it has grown. The experts do not know how a child's mind grows, but we know what it is for when they have finished with it.

WELL, TO GET down to the essen-tial points of this business, the condition of men's minds after a good many generations of modern education, is not encouraging. That is to say, it is not encouraging when you consider the prime purpose of all education, which is not to fill the mind with knowledge but to teach it to work; not to strew it with the accumulated academic litter of the ages, but to make it able to think for itself. As one who feels a keen personal sense of deficiency in this direction, I hold it to be a tragedy that this generation is less able to think than any generation in history.

NOW THIS is not to be blamed en-tirely on our education, for the conditions of modern life are such that a man can get along very well without thinking at all. So long as he can press a few buttons, turn a few levers, put his foot down on the accelerator, read the signs of the traffic, and open a can with a modern can-opener he can get along very well. He does not require any of that constructive mentality which enabled his forefathers to settle in this country without any of the devices of civilization, wring their living from the woods, and build up our present civilization.

I DO NOT say, therefore, that our educational system alone is responsible for the present condition of our minds, which are overladen with every conceivable kind of information but don't work—much, indeed, like a train so weighted down with freight that it cannot move on its tracks. I do not deny that our easy condition of life militates against hard thinking. But I do say that our education system does not enable us to think our way into another condition of life, another civilization wherein we could think.

THE RESULT of all this is every-where apparent. We haven't had a new idea in half a century. There have only been half a dozen ideas, of course, since the beginning of our race. Socrates had one. Jesus had one. Darwin had one. And we are still living on the Darwinian idea, which has altered our whole conception of life more than anything since the event of Calvary. We haven't had a real idea since Darwin said we descended from apes, when up to that time we had imagined that we had descended from angels, thus forcing men into two schools, those who, like Socrates and Jesus, thought life had some sense to it, and those who, like Darwin, conceived it as the unfolding of a grisly conspiracy against happiness.

YOU MAY retort that we have created many wonderful things in the last fifty years and erected a civilization unmatched in all history for complexity and invention. True, but it is the work of a few men. The vast majority of us follow blindly where they lead without the slightest idea where we are going, or how we are going to end, but with a dull sense of dissatisfaction. We are a baffled and agonized generation. More appalling, the men who lead us don't know either where we are going or how we are going to end, and don't make any pretension of knowing it. We march forward, but we have no idea where it is to the millennium or a precipice.

THE TROUBLE with us, of course, is that we have developed new ways of living, a new kind of civilization, much more rapidly than we have developed our powers of governing it. Somehow it has got so far ahead of us now that we don't seem to catch up to it. For so soon as we have mastered one of its complexities than a hundred new and unsuspected ones have developed. To control the forces which we have unleashed into the world we should be able to think ten times as well as our grandfathers. Instead, we have a hundred times their knowledge, but don't think as well. Until we now find the superb spectacle of the civilized nations of the world filled with the knowledge that a first-class war would wreck their whole civilization, and yet busily preparing for this very event; not because they want it, but because their people cannot think well.

enough to devise some means of preventing it.

JUST THE same, despite these un-questionable truths, we will send our boys and girls back to school this fall, to learn the same old things, without any assurance that they will be able to think adequately three or four years from now. Because we can't think of any other way.

DOG POUND

To the Editor:I would like, through the columns of your paper, on behalf of myself and other dog owners concerned, to protest against activities of the poundkeeper in picking up dogs bearing licenses in Beacon Hill Park. I wish to state I attach no blame whatsoever to the poundkeeper who is only obeying orders from his superiors, and incidentally fulfilling the law which states that no dogs are allowed in Beacon Hill Park without a leash, or words to that effect. Now, if anyone can advise me how it is humanly possible to keep dogs out of a public park which has no sign of a fence anywhere, and which the Island Highway cuts right through, and is touched on practically every corner by different streets and roads, I would be very thankful as I have not the time or inclination to keep retrieving my children's pet from the pound every little while, which must be the case under these conditions. It seems to me that owners of dogs pay their license for the privilege of keeping a dog at liberty to run around at large, and to keep it penned up at home, in order to avoid it being penned up in the pound. There are numerous stray dogs whom the poundkeeper could confine his activities to, I think, before interfering with dogs carrying the regulation license. As several protests have been made.

BENNETT CUP RACE SEEMS WON FOR U.S.

Unofficial Checkup Gives
Balloon Trophy to Goodyear
VIII By 100-Mile Margin

Will Mean Fifth American
Victory in Succession;
Storms Hinder Entrants

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 4.—A new record in nineteen years of international balloon racing—five successive victories in the famed Gordon Bennett Cup—yesterday appeared safely within the grasp of the United States.

Repeating his triumph of a year ago, Ward T. Van Orman of Akron, Ohio, veteran balloonist of the U.S., brought his Goodyear VIII down on the outskirts of Boston after traveling approximately 550 miles from Cleveland, the starting point.

This was more than 100 miles farther than the nearest of the five other competitors, and barring misfortune when the race is officially checked, made him an easy winner.

The Belgica, piloted by Capt. Ernest De Myster, of Belgium, the most experienced of all the entrants and himself a victor four times, appeared to have covered the second longest distance, 435 miles, but stood the possibility of being disqualified because a farmer loosened the drag rope when it was caught in a tree at Esperance N.Y.

The unofficial standing, as announced by the race committee here, was:

1. Goodyear VIII, piloted by Van Orman; Allan MacCracken, aide; landed at Canton, N.Y.; distance 550 miles.

2. Belgica, piloted by Capt. De Myster; Leon Coccoliberg, aide; landed at Adana, Mass.; distance 435 miles.

3. Barmen (Germany), piloted by Hugo Kaulen Jr.; Carl Goetz Jr., aide; landed at Pittsburgh, N.Y.; distance 425 miles.

4. City of Detroit, piloted by Edmund J. Hill; Arthur G. Schlosser, aide; landed at Coeyman, N.Y.; distance 400 miles.

5. City of Cleveland, piloted by Roland J. Blair, Akron; F. A. Trotter, Akron, aide; landed at Copenhagen, N.Y.; distance 350 miles.

6. Pierre Fiesbach (France), piloted by Albert Bolland; Jean Herbe, aide; landed at Beasmeville, Ont.; distance 160 miles.

IN AIR CURRENTS

All of the big free gas bags traveled many more miles as they met various air currents, but the air line distance from the starting point to the landing place determines the winner.

If Van Orman's apparent victory becomes official, it will give the United States its second leg on the third Gordon Bennett Trophy, which must be won three times in a row for permanent possession. Captain De Myster turned the trick for Belgium in 1923-24-25 to retire the original cup. Then began the succession of American victories, which gave the United States the second award in 1928, and this year seemingly has placed it on the verge of acquiring the third victory.

The race started here late Monday afternoon. Winds carried all the contestants in a general northeasterly direction on storm ridden courses, but served them down across New York to spoil their hopes of finishing in Maine or perhaps in Labrador.

All of the pilots told of battling storms and bitter weather in the high altitudes as they sought for better speed and endurance. Van Orman, however, said thunder showers did not greatly deter his progress, but he had to land to escape being blown out over the Atlantic. He remained aloft for five minutes short of twenty-eight hours.

Raising Rally in Last Quarter Gives Brampton Lacrosse Title

THE SPORTS MIRROR

BILL RILEY, who did some great defence playing for the old O.W.V.A. team in the Senior Amateur Hockey League here in the days following the Great War, is back in town with his wife visiting his parents. Bill is now a citizen of San Francisco and likes things down south very well, but the old home town always looks good to him. Bill is doing a lot of chinning with his old army pals as well as the kids he went to school with and played hockey with.

Some one told an interesting story on Bill following his arrival in Seattle on his way here and there's a laugh going around at Bill's expense but he always did enjoy a laugh centering around himself.

Bill didn't actually fly from San Francisco to Seattle, but his car was doing about sixty per all the way. When he got to Seattle he was tired out from the hard going and wanted to get to Victoria as quickly as possible. He made inquiries about boats and found that the S.S. Prince David was coming across about midnight. Bill had no time to lose, so he went to the dock and waited for the boat. "Prince David" shouted one of the dock attendants in Bill's ear. "No, plain Riley," replied Bill as he was coming to life.

It is pleasing to note the great amount of interest being shown in schoolboy football by the Dominion Football Association, which held its annual meeting in Victoria this week. The members of this body fully realize that the kids must be developed in order to guarantee the advancement of the game in Canada. The D.F.A. through its council members located in every province, is doing everything possible to get the schoolboys playing soccer.

British Columbia is certainly doing her share. When Charlie Jones informed the delegates yesterday that the British Columbia Football Association was fostering the organization of 700 schoolboy teams in Vancouver, his announcement was greeted with rounds of applause. School football is well organized in Victoria as well as other cities of the province and if all other parts of the Dominion carry out this work in the same efficient manner as B.C., the success of football in Canada is assured.

An interesting feature of the recent boxing bout in San Francisco between the two young heavyweights Max Baer and Frank Campbell, during the progress of which Campbell received injuries that caused his death, has come to light. Boxing Commissioner Charles F. Traugott, of the California Boxing Commission in sanctioning this bout, showed the remainder of the commission through the foul play of the fouling epidemic should be handled.

When the bout, which ended so disastrously, was under way, Traugott laid down the law on fouling and wrote out an agreement that had to be signed by both fighters—or no fight. Here's the agreement:

"In case of unintentional foul the fouled contestant shall be examined by a doctor selected by the commissioner and if unable to continue shall be given a rest sufficient for him to regain his strength, even if it is necessary to put on a preliminary while he is resting.

"If he is incapacitated to such an extent that he shall be unable to continue that day, the contest may be postponed and resumed at a date to be fixed by the commissioner. The holders of coupons for tickets admitted without charge. The parties hereto agree to leave the details of this matter to the judgment of the commissioner.

"In case of a deliberate foul the offending boxer shall forfeit his entire purse and be suspended indefinitely. The undersigned hereby agree to the above and are bound thereby."

That ought to make fouling too expensive for any fighter and keep a lot of wandering punches above the belt. If there had been such a rule in force in New York, when Sharkey and Schmeling met, there would have been no fouling by Sharkey. The loss of $100,000, and, indefinite suspension, would have made the Brown-Gilbey fight very careful about swinging uppercut from the knees while Schmeling was rushing in.

FINE BOAT GIVEN CLUB BY MEMBER

Rex Askey Presents J.B.A.A. With Practice Shell at Oarsmen's Banquet

Dan O'Sullivan, Andy McLachlan and Ladies' Auxiliary Honored at Fete

Gathered round the banquet board set by the Women's Auxiliary, active oarsmen of the J.B.A.A. yesterday evening bade farewell to the 1930 rowing season, and heard toasts and short addresses by officials of the club and guests. The evening was featured by the presentation to the club, by Rex Askey, of a splendid home-built practice boat, and the presentation of a picture to Dan O'Sullivan, dean of rowing coaches, on the Pacific Coast, who has labored for forty years in the interest of the club. Andy McLachlan, whose prompt and heroic action in saving Al Wright when the latter collapsed and fell out of his shell during the N.F.A.A. races this summer, received a medal of appreciation from the president, R. F. Taylor, who occupied the chair.

Opening the banquet, Mr. Taylor spoke of the growth of the club since its inception forty years ago, and paid glowing tribute to the present membership for its energetic work in forwarding the interests of the J.B.A.A. He referred to the number of new men who had taken to rowing during the summer, and expressed the conviction that, with another year's practice, the local oarsmen would be able to capture a greater share of honors at regattas of British Columbia.

Mr. Taylor also read a letter from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor voicing his regrets at not being able to attend the function.

FINE SPORTSMEN

Alderman James Adam, speaking on behalf of the City Council, referred to the splendid work the J.B.A.A. was carrying on in the city. He told of the early days when he had played both for and against the club's teams, and stated they had always been known as fine sportsmen. He conveyed the best wishes of the council to the oarsmen for successful activities in the future and stated he was wholeheartedly in favor of their objectives.

Similar words of commendation were voiced by Councillor Alex Lowmyer, of Esquimalt, who noted that the changing of the J.B.A.A. quarters from the Inner Harbor to the Gorge had been a boon to the city, but a gain to Esquimalt. He expressed the willingness of the Esquimalt Council to do all in its power to assist the club, but advised the executive to approach the municipality early in the year if it wished assistance. He stated that a request this season had been received too late for action.

He joined with Alderman Adam in commending the high ideals of sportsmanship maintained by the club and paid great tribute to the Ladies' Auxiliary for the magnificent banquet it had provided.

PRESENTS PICTURES

On behalf of the oarsmen, Dan Moses, club captain, presented to Councillor Alex Lowmyer a picture of the venerable "Dan" and gave another to the club, as a token of the crew's appreciation of his hard and earnest work for many seasons.

Making the first donation of new equipment to the club, Rex Askey, well-known stroke of the club, presented a splendid lapstreak single. The boat, a magnificent piece of work, was constructed by Mr. Askey in his basement, and was completed after nine months' labor.

It proved not only a most valuable addition to the club's equipment, but demonstrated to those assembled that the younger members of the J.B.A.A. were willing to give time and energy to assist their organization.

E. G. Nicholas, speaking on behalf of the directors, expressed the hope that the club would soon secure sufficient funds to conduct further improvements to the grounds.

ENGLISH SOCCER TOUR ASSURED THIS SEASON

Dominion Football Association Decides to Bring British Team Out For Series Await A.A.U. of C. to Seek Soccer Men's Affiliation

Another visit of an all-star English soccer team during the coming season was assured yesterday afternoon when the Dominion Football Association voted on record as willing to pay the expenses of the trip at the closing session of its annual general meeting in the Empress Hotel. A series of seventeen games will be played throughout Canada and will cost the football body approximately $36,000. No dates have yet been set for the tour, which will have to be ratified by the English body before final details are settled.

A letter from the United States Football Association, requesting the Canadian group to use its weight in securing the English team for a series of test games against United States eleven during the trip was received with mixed feelings by the body, with the majority disapproving of the project.

All agreed it was unwise to allow such a series before the Englishmen completed their tour of Canada on the grounds that some of the men might be injured and thereby spoil the showing of the visitors. The opinion was also advanced that a series at the end of the tour would find the Britishers tired out and ragged and would give the United States a chance to meet a first class team in poor condition and thereby give them an opportunity to defeat the Englishmen.

In view of the fact that the Britishers might want to play such a series, the Dominion body left the matter in the hands of the council in order not to tie the English soccer body.

The visiting squad will be about twenty-two strong. A move suggesting the Dominion Football Association send a representative to the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada was frowned upon by the meeting although the football men were not against a working agreement with the amateur organization. It was generally felt that if the A.A.U. of C. sent the association a gift edge invitation, the footballers would be prepared to meet them halfway, but were averse to making the first move in that direction.

Further organization work in the football field was suggested during the meeting but left on the table for further discussion. An Empire Football Association, similar to that sought by South Africa was broached but received no concrete support. Closer to home a new system of provincial rep teams or leagues to play a series of western and eastern championships was suggested in order to bring the soccer men of one province into closer touch with those of another. The matter received favorable comment, but was not definitely ratified.

WILL NOT RETARD CHAMPIONSHIPS
Possibility of retarding the playing of the Dominion championships was promptly quashed when it was pointed out that western provinces could not delay this series later than August since the English series of western and eastern championships was suggested in order to bring the soccer men of one province into closer touch with those of another. The matter received favorable comment, but was not definitely ratified.

New York Gains As Cubs Lose To Rushing Pirates

Giants Jump Half a Game Nearer National League Leaders by Splitting Double-header With Boston; Pirates and Braves Each Have One Big Inning to Win Their Games; Philadelphia Athletics Chalk Up Ninetieth Victory to Gain Full Game on Washington, Who Lost to Yanks.

If the New York Giants fail in their attempt to overtake the Chicago Cubs in the hectic race for the National League pennant, their failure can be attributed in a large measure to their inability to take the chances offered them.

A great chance came the way of the Giants yesterday when they engaged the Boston Braves in a double-header while the Cubs were taking a 9 to 6 beating from Pittsburgh's up-an-coming Pirates. But the total gain for New York was half a game. The Giants won the first game with difficulty, 5 to 3, and lost the second, 11 to 7.

The Pirates and the Braves each had one big inning and each won a ball game by it. Pittsburgh clouted Bud Teichout and Sheriff Blake from the mound and the Athletics total, 7 to 0, equalling the Chicago total. The Cubs battled clear around their lineup, piling four singles and a pair of doubles on top of two walks for the victory that carried them from behind to a victory.

COSTLY ERROR
Boston errors and some timely hits gave the Giants a victory in the first clash, a 5 to 3, and Boston's rally in the seventh inning allowing the two runs that won the game to come in. But in the second going into the semi-final frame three runs behind, the Braves scratched Bill Walker and Rub Prust for eight runs and the victory.

Philadelphia Athletics celebrated the occasion of their nineteenth victory of the current season by picking up a full game on Washington as the result of the two American League games played yesterday. While the world champions were trouncing the Boston Red Sox 11 to 4, the New York Yankees were breaking the nine the Senators have held over them most of the season, by 10 to 7.

A recruit outfielder led the A's to the triumph which put them six and a half games ahead of the nearest rival. Jim Moore drove in four runs with a home run and a double.

THREE UPSETS IN GOLF PLAY

Favorites Beaten in California Amateur; Tight Play Witnessed

Pebble Beach, Cal., Sept. 4.—California's leading golfers marched off on the trail of the state amateur championship yesterday in a first round featured by three upsets, some unusually tight play and a preponderance of one-sided matches.

Dr. Jack Wolf, golfing dentist of San Francisco, contributed one of the surprises, when he defeated Russell Thompson of Glendale on the nineteenth. Other matches whose ending failed to check with advance predictions saw Winston Fuller of Los Angeles nose out his fellow townsmen, while Bangor, on the nineteenth, while Harry Westbrook, another Los Angeles entrant, toured the tricky Pebble Beach course in such a manner as to beat Jack Gains of Glend, 2 and 1.

Among the favorites who were downed were Lawson Little of San Francisco, medalist, John McHugh, winner of the title three times previously; Fay Coleman, Los Angeles, and Francis Brown, Honolulu.

Little won a hard battle from F. C. Stevens Jr., Hollywood, 1 up. McHugh, lanky San Francisco star, was 1 down at the ninth, but braced up to take the measure of F. P. Gilson, Pasadena, 2 and 1.

Coleman, one of the favorites, completely outclassed Herb Schulz Jr., Alameda, to win 6 and 5. Schulz was second in the thirty-six-hole qualifying trials, but his game went to pieces yesterday.

The southern section of the state held the advantage after yesterday's round, placing eight men for to-day's second session. Seven northern winners left with Honolulu represented by one victive during the year to the general meeting in the future.

Voices of thanks were extended to the press, to the city for its civic banquet Tuesday, to those who had provided cars to take the delegates sightseeing, to the secretary for his excellent work and to the president for the able way in which he had presided at the sessions.

Delegates joined in thanking S. Beryngour, retiring member of council for the excellent work he had carried out while in office.

Following the session the gathering left the hotel for a drive over the Malahat during which a picnic was held.

CALIFORNIA GIRL TENNIS PLAYERS WIN

Helen Marlowe, Dorothy Workman and Carolyn Babcock in Championship Semis

Sarah Palfrey, Defending Champion, Lone Eastern Player Unbeaten

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—Sarah Palfrey, defending champion from Boston, was the only eastern player remaining yesterday evening to block the challenge of the Pacific Coast for the girls' national tennis championship at Philadelphia Cricket Club. California yesterday sent three representatives into the semi-finals, Helen Marlowe, Dorothy Workman and Carolyn Babcock.

In the upper bracket to-day, Miss Palfrey, seeded first, meets Miss Babcock, seeded No. 4, while Miss Marlowe, seeded No. 2, clashes with Miss Workman, seeded No. 3.

Miss Palfrey was given her first real test of the tournament yesterday by Carolyn Roberts of New York after losing the first set without capturing a game, the New York girl came back to give the titleholder her keenest battle thus far.

Miss Marlowe, representing the University of Southern California, thrashed Helen Bidwell of Boston, 6-0, 5-3, to enter the semi-finals. Miss Workman of Los Angeles eliminated Mary Cutter, Boston, 6-0, 6-2, and Miss Babcock also of Los Angeles triumphed over Hilda Boehm, Boston, 7-5, 6-3.

Play
The third round without any startling upsets. Among the survivors were Sarah and Joanna Palfrey, Boston, and Helen Fulton, Chicago, and Allison Harrison, Philadelphia. The Palfrey sisters defeated Barbara and Dorothy Chisley, Montclair, N.J., 6-1, 6-1, while Misses Fulton and Harrison won their second round match from Misses Plumer and Cummings, Westfield, N.J., 6-1, 5-7, 6-1.

About 300 visitors and local members of the profession were invited.

Tolmie, Dr. Gordon Kenning, president of the Victoria Medical Society and Mrs. Kenning, and the guests who are staying at Government House, Sir Benjamin Robertson, K.C.S.I., K.C.M.G., Mr. and Mrs. M. GIRLS FIND MAP LOST BY COSTE

Chart Falls From French Plane Into Farmer's Orchard

Portsmouth, N.H., Sept. 4.—Two girls here yesterday had possession of a prize souvenir of the flight from Paris to New York of the French plane, "Question Mark." They had a chart which Captain Dieudonne Coste and his co-pilot apparently had used in plotting their course across the Atlantic.

As the French fliers sped over Portsmouth on the final lap of their brilliant flight Tuesday afternoon, the chart fell from the plane. It came to earth in the orchard of John Steff. His daughters, Alice and Irene, alert to the gleam of the falling object, dashed into the orchard and were greatly surprised to discover it was a chart.

The chart is about two by one and a half feet in size and shows portions of the continents of North America and Europe in minute latitude and longitude details of the Atlantic. It is plotted in black ink is the course which the fliers had intended to follow. In blue pencil, evidently marked by the fliers, were en route, are lines showing slight deviations from the original route. There are brief notations in French.

The countess was shot on duty when he entered a store in which he suspected a burglar was working, and died in a hospital shortly afterward.

The money has been placed with a trust company, the interest to be spent on the family's behalf. The countess left a widow and six children.

Royal Oak

The Royal Oak Bible Class, which for six years has met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Grant, held its weekly meeting on Tuesday evening. A pleasing feature of the evening was a presentation made by Mrs. Kelly, on behalf of the members, of a fountain pen, to their teacher, Mr. Phillips, who, with Mrs. Phillips, will shortly leave the district to take up evangelistic work in the Thompson Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips expressed appreciation of the gift.

Mrs. Albert Allison has returned after spending a vacation in Port Angeles. Mrs. Walter Allison, with her son, Wallace, and Mr. and Mrs. Fredson-wood returned on Tuesday from Union Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jewell returned on Tuesday evening after spending a few days in Seattle.

PRESENTATION TO REV. H. KNOX

Purse Presented at Farewell Social at Emmanuel Baptist Church

The schoolroom of the Emmanuel Baptist Church was filled to capacity last evening on the occasion of a farewell social tendered by the church and congregation to Rev. Henry and Mrs. Knox. Rev. Mr. Knox has served in the pastorate for nearly six years, coming here from Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.

Senior Deacon J. R. Clements presided over the gathering, and the opening prayer was offered by Deacon Miles. Farewell messages were given by a number of speakers, including Rev. J. Hood, on behalf of the Ministerial Association, of which Mr. Knox is a past president; Very Rev. Dean Qualton, for the Canadian Bible Society; Rev. C. K. Morse, for the B.C. Baptist Convention; Rev. Dr. Wilson of the First United Church; Rev. F. W. McKinnon of the Douglas Street Baptist Church, and Rev. George Reynolds, the new minister at the First Baptist Church. All of the speakers paid tribute to the faithfulness and sincerity of Mr. Knox in his work, not alone in Emmanuel Church, but in various moral and uplifting associations in the community. On behalf of the church and congregation, A. S. Woodard, the church clerk, read an illuminated address, and Mrs. Sherwood presented Mr. Knox with a well-filled purse. Little Louise Walton presented Mrs. Knox with a large floral basket of gladioli and asters. On behalf of the Sunday school, Harold Parfitt presented Mrs. Knox with a handsome Wahl pen and pencil. Pastor and Mrs. Knox both made feeling responses, thanking their many friends for the evidence of esteem and affection that had constantly been shown them during their association with the church, and bespeaking for the future a continuance of loyal support to the organization.

Musical numbers were contributed during the evening as follows: Piano solo, Miss W. Sowercroft; vocal solo, J. Oakman; vocal duet, Misses Annie and Ethel Rhodes; reading, Miss W. Sowercroft; vocal solo, Fred Parfitt. After the partaking of light refreshments served by the ladies of the church, the benediction was pronounced by Rev. F. W. McKinnon. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Knox left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, where Mr. Knox will be the acting pastor of the First Baptist Church in that city for a time.

The risk of being struck by lightning is five times greater in the country than in the city, and twenty times greater at sea than in a railway car.

According to a census made in 1921, Canada had 8,788,000 inhabitants. Of these 2,432,000 were of French extraction.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Write for this Free Book about BABY'S WELFARE

Mrs. Eddes was so glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children, a stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

If adults are honest with themselves they will admit that many of their ideas upon various subjects are not the result of their own thinking, but are ideas instilled by the past generation. They are in a word, prejudices, not ideas. But even prejudices can be changed, and the adult only delays his own progress and development when he refuses to look upon his prejudices, recognizing them for what they are, and alter them by his own personal thinking.

The manner of answering a child's questions about sex when he asks them is one of those subjects still surrounded by much musty prejudice. Intelligent parents and educators have been doing some real thinking on the subject and endeavoring mightily to throw away their prejudices and view subjects in a healthy, non-sentimental and non-emotional way. The results of this thinking are known to most parents, though many of them still find it difficult to tell their own children the truths about sex.

EARLY QUESTIONS
 No person living but must admit that the more filthy ideas he gathered in his youth, the more eagerly he desires to keep all such knowledge from his own children. But this is something impossible for any parent to accomplish. Questions of such importance and interest to the child will be answered by someone—and it would seem that the parent, who was himself educated in the hit-or-miss school of dubious and untruthful information, would be eager to satisfy his own child's curiosity in the proper manner. Questions about life and its beginnings are asked by the child as early as the second year. The mother knows that at this age no very complicated or detailed answer could be

PROTEST ON IMPORTS OF FARM PRODUCE

Toronto, Sept. 4.—Premier O. Howard Ferguson yesterday launched his campaign to promote the use of Ontario farm produce by a vigorous attack on the importation of United States canned goods and flour and their sale here while there is a surplus of Canadian grown vegetables and wheat.

Premier Ferguson, speaking at the directors' luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition, announced the Ontario Government planned an aggressive educational advertising campaign from the platform, in the press and over the air, to promote the sale, use and consumption of Ontario farm products.

Canned soup made from United States vegetables, canned fruit and a United States brand of flour came under the Premier's fire. The canned peaches, he said, were sold here while the market was hampered for the sale of Niagara-grown peaches. The flour, he said, was made from United States soft wheat and sold here while in Canada there was a superabundance of the finest hard wheat in the world.

Mr. Ferguson also deprecated the use of peaches imported from Australia, which were grown and transported by the aid of an Australian government subsidy.

JUDGE AND JURY TO DECIDE ELECTION CASE

Prince Rupert, Sept. 4.—Captain Neil Macleah of the St. Prince George and Charles Davis, engineer on the same vessel, charged with perjury in connection with alleged irregularities in the Skeena constituency in the recent Federal general election, were given preliminary hearing before Magistrate McClymont yesterday. The magistrate, at the conclusion of the hearing, ruled enough evidence had been submitted to allow the cases of the two men to be referred to a higher court, and remanded the accused for a week.

One of the chief witnesses yesterday was E. H. Mortimer, a returning officer, who said he had ruled Captain Macleah and other members of the crew of

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

A particularly delicate meat dish for summer is the sweetbread. It is very light and easy to digest and combines deliciously with other materials. This last happy faculty makes it possible to use quite a small amount to serve several people.

As soon as sweetbreads are brought from the market they should be put into cold salt water to completely cover them. Use two teaspoons of salt to a quart of water. If the breads are bloody, they should stand in water until clear, changing the water several times. Then drop them into rapidly boiling water, adding two tablespoons of lemon juice or vinegar and one teaspoon of salt to calves' breads for twenty minutes and beef breads for thirty-five minutes. Drain from boiling water and plunge into cold water. This keeps them white and firm. When cold, remove all membrane that is loose and any bits of fat or other material that may be attached to the bread. The sweetbreads are now ready to use in any preferred fashion.

CALVES' BREADS MOST TENDER
 While calves' breads are the more delicate and tender, beef breads can be used satisfactorily and are much cheaper in price. Beef breads have the same flavor, a little more strongly accented, perhaps, but appetizing and pleasant. They require longer cooking to make them tender, for they are naturally less tender than calves' breads.

Sweetbreads are in two parts, and are usually sold together in what is called a "pair." The round, compact part is the heart bread and is the more desirable. The long, loose part is the throat bread. One pair is calculated to serve four persons with other material being added.

Mushrooms and pears are traditional with sweetbreads but other vegetables are good. When the breads are used in a salad, cucumbers combine excellently. Sweet peppers, tomatoes and carrots are good in made dishes.

Sweetbreads make a delicious change from chicken for party menus and are as generally liked. Sweetbread is a King. Sweetbreads mouse.

Robbie and Joan know what's good!

"Mother, what was it you gave us to eat when we were kids and had rainy day picnic in the attic? Robbie and Joan have a little visitor and they want an 'entry' speshul 's'prise' for supper . . . Yes, that's it! Thanks so much!"

Then Mother fried some bacon and put it through the mincer until it was minced fine. Then she worked it into one half-cup of Clark's Pork and Beans.

After she had stirred them together very smoothly, the bacon and beans were thoroughly mixed, the spread them between slices of brown bread. (Serve hot or cold, as preferred.)

You should have seen the youngsters tuck into that meal. It's something Robbie and Joan demand very often now, and Mother's pleased to report that Robbie and Joan have put on weight lately.

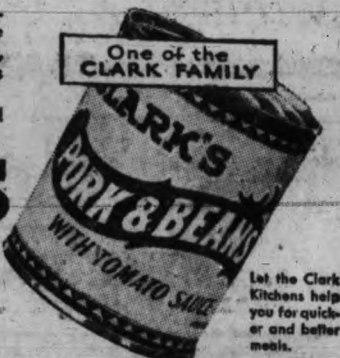

From time to time, other brands of Pork and Beans have been placed on the market only to disappear. For more than fifty years Canadian housewives have been buying Clark's Pork and Beans . . . Today, Clark's have the largest sale of any Pork and Beans in Canada.

Responsibility For Airport Rests With City Says Straith

Industrial Committee Head Shows Council Air Fields Are Municipal Undertaking; Outlines Progress Already Made on Lansdowne Project; City Must Act Quickly to Provide Aviation Facilities.

Pointing out that municipalities both in Canada and the United States have undertaken responsibility for airports and stressing the need for immediate action by Victoria, as well as answering criticisms which have been made of the Lansdowne Field, Alderman W. T. Straith, chairman of the city industrial committee, yesterday afternoon presented to City Council a full report of the situation in regard to the local development.

He referred particularly to his recent tour of Pacific northwest airports. The report follows: "As this is the first opportunity I have had to report on my recent visit to airports on the Pacific Coast, I consider it an opportune time to report fully on the progress of airport matters up to the present time, particularly because of the interest which is being shown by the Victoria citizens in airport matters."

an accepted principle in Canada that airports are a municipal responsibility. The Dominion Government has consistently refused to build airports for commercial purposes, though it has military airports in different parts of Canada. It might be suggested that Esquimalt, being a naval base, the Dominion Government has a responsibility in respect of an airport for Vancouver Island. However, the city of Halifax is in an analogous position, and that city was compelled to accept its responsibility for a municipal airport, and in April 1929, voted $150,000 for the purchase of property and the equipment of its airport. The same is true of the city of Vancouver. The military base there is established at Jericho Beach, but in spite of this the city of Vancouver has accepted its responsibility, and has already voted $300,000 for the purchase of an airport site, and a further $300,000 for the equipment of this airport. The same is true of all cities in the Dominion of Canada, the Dominion Government having consistently renounced all responsibility for expenditures for site and hangar accommodation.

"The only place where the Dominion Government has been interested in civil aviation to the extent of equipping an airport, has been at St. Hubert, near Montreal, where the government has assisted an Imperial Air-service, and has provided such equipment as would accommodate British airships—which might come from Great Britain. Recently the R-100 was the first airship to land at the St. Hubert base. The Dominion Government's responsibility in this case, however, is of an Imperial nature, and in no other city of Canada has any civil airport been purchased or equipped by the Federal Government."

is at the corner of Erie Street and Dallas Road. Three lots are owned by the city at this location, and these have been leased to Edward A. Lowe who has already purchased three planes for a tri-city service, and has his plans prepared for the expenditure of $45,000 on a seaplane hangar. "Certain objections were raised by the transportation companies with respect to the operation of seaplanes at this site, but recently these objections were met by reason of an application to the Dominion Government for the establishment of air regulations which would apply to the harbor of Victoria, and it is hoped that within a few weeks this seaplane base will be established, and a new service will be in operation between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle. Consequently, the city's obligation regarding the seaplane base has been discharged and the plans for the new seaplane base indicates that it will be capable of looking after all seaplane traffic in an adequate manner."

"Your committee has been giving much attention to the matter of an airport for land planes, and has already taken an option on Lansdowne Field for $50,000, and has applied to the Federal Government for approval of this field as a permanent airport. The city is fortunate in having this field so close to the heart of the city, as many eastern cities are complaining that owing to traffic congestion, airports which have been established at a considerable distance from their cities have lost much of the advantage in the way of speedy transportation which should be the case with aviation, and I find that there is a tendency to bring

ISLAND COAL IS GOOD COAL

A Plain Statement about Coal and the Unemployment Problem

NOW . . . LET'S QUIT TALKING AND DO SOMETHING

HUNDREDS of hours and millions of words were expended during the recent election campaign in discussing the unemployment situation. It will be a major issue in Vancouver during the coming winter.

The average British Columbian, however strong his loyalty to Canada, can find comparatively few opportunities actually to contribute to the relief of the unemployed. Here's a way in which everybody can help!

The coal business is one of British Columbia's primary industries. Its payroll provides maintenance for more than 30,000 people—5% of the entire population of the province! These miners, handlers, workers and their dependents almost all live in Greater Vancouver or on the Island.

Every ton of Island coal consumed in our homes and in our industrial plants means a day's maintenance for a miner and his family. Similarly, every ton of imported coal or its equivalent in other fuels, puts one miner and his family out of business for a day.

So when you buy Island coal, which is cheaper than it was last year, and still costs less than other fuels, you are practicing better economy in your own household, and making a direct contribution toward the relief of unemployment.

Island coal is good coal. It gives more heat units per dollar. It is dependable and adaptable to all requirements. With even a minimum of care, it is a more economical method of heating than any other fuel.

Ask any of the dealers listed herewith and who sell Nanaimo-Wellington and Comox coals how well these grades compare with others. Ask them to tell you of the exceptionally high content of B.T.U.'s (heat units). They'll gladly explain the advantages and economy of Island Coal and why they are best for you. If you are in doubt which to order, request the service of the Collieries Combustion Engineer. He will inspect your furnace and advise you, free of charge.

In the hands of these merchants lies the ability to secure permanent maintenance for thousands of British Columbia families all through the coming winter. They will do this if you buy Island Coal.

DIARIES AND LOGS MAY TELL ANDREE STORY

Records Kept By Arctic Balloon Explorers in Good Preservation

Mystery Still Surrounds Fate of Third Member of Party

All Night Reserved in North and South America and Japan—By the Associated Press

Tromsø, Norway, Sept. 4.—Salomon August Andree, pioneer polar explorer, was found to have died guarding to the last the story of his attempt to reach the North Pole by balloon thirty-three years ago, protecting with his body even in death two notebooks containing his precious records.

Examination of the body by experts in Tromsø hospital yesterday showed that in addition to his two diaries and his navigation log, two notebooks were wrapped up in an undershirt and frozen to his back.

AS HE FROZE TO DEATH Andree, having placed these precious papers at his back, apparently lay down upon them when he realized death was near, and shielded them with his body as he slowly froze to death.

The day-to-day record of the Andree expedition's tramp on foot over ice from the point where their balloon was wrecked to White Island, where its members perished, is contained in one of the two notebooks.

The notebooks seemed to be in good condition. In his effort to preserve them for those who might one day find his body, Andree had stripped off his own undershirt and made them secure. As the body was found headless, it is apparent that his precaution was not an idle one, especially as bears made frequent marauding expeditions through the camp.

TO RECONSTRUCT STORY

With the help of the newly discovered notebooks and of Andree's navigation log and the other diary found by Dr. Gunnar Horn last month in Andree's camp on White Island, experts hope to reconstruct the adventures of the pioneer polar aeronautical explorer. They expect to learn how the balloon met disaster and how Andree and his companions made their way across the ice to White Island, where they perished.

A second diary was found during examination of Andree's body in the little Tromsø Hospital yesterday. It was the most sensational discovery of the day, during which positive identification was made of the bodies of Andree and Nils Strindberg and the puzzling bones brought back by Dr. Horn were found to be those of a Polar bear and not those of Knut Frankel, third member of the expedition.

BURIED FOR THIRTY-THREE YEARS

For thirty-three years these diaries and the log had been buried under the same shroud of snow and ice that hid the bodies of the explorers from the world.

It is surmised that it is the diary what befell the expedition during its lonely months of virtual imprisonment while waiting for rescue on the island beach. Dr. Horn has refused as yet to make it public.

Andree's log book, according to Horn's statement, does not continue up until the very last days of Andree's life.

The new diary may contain the record of the balloon flight from Spitzbergen, which is supposed to have ended at latitude 83 north, of the balloon's wreck, and perhaps the party's wanderings over the ice and Arctic waters with their sledges and their frail canvas boat.

MAY REVEAL TRAGEDY

Only from a study of the three, it now appears, will the world ever know the fate of Knut Frankel. Identification by the experts, Professors Hedren and Lithberg, of the bones brought back by Dr. Horn as those of a polar bear, leaves open to question what became of Frankel's body.

He may have perished with the wreck of the balloon, or on the way to White Island, or on the island itself. The body may have been devoured by the bears that Dr. Horn says often ravaged the camp, or it may still be buried under the snow.

The identification of the bodies of Andree and Strindberg, brought back to civilization after being entombed thirty-three years on White Island, was made under dramatic circumstances. The new diary is well preserved. With its help and the material in the first diary and the navigation log, experts hope to reconstruct the entire epic of Andree's expedition.

Frankel's mother, who died a few years ago, was much interested in the expedition and declared she had several times been in communication with her son's spirit.

Severn Wahlstrom, a member of the Frankel family who arrived Tuesday to represent their interests, said that the young man's mother insisted to the last that one day the bodies of the three men would be found and brought home.

He says that two sisters of Frankel still live near Stockholm.

COAL GROUP TO LEARN NEWS OF SPARK ARRESTER

J. M. Cameron Will Report Progress of Test to Enlarged Committee To-morrow

J. M. Cameron's report on arrangements made for testing the Brown-Cyclone spark arrester on the E. & N. Railway will be the main business to be discussed by the enlarged permanent research committee on coal when it meets in the members' room of the Legislative Buildings to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. This will be the first working meeting of the committee.

A. O. Adams, a representative of the Brown-Cyclone interests in Seattle, has been in the city for the last ten days making arrangements for the erection of the plant necessary for the installation of the arrester in E. & N. locomotives. No specific news of his progress has as yet been released.

Four new committeemen will take their seats at the meeting on Friday, appointed by their respective organizations. Harold Brown, manager of the Union Steamship Company; Captain E. L. Johnson of the Pacific Coast Navigation Company; and W. J. Blake-Wilson, of Coalbrook Collieries, have been definitely named to the committee. In addition to those already nominated, in addition, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will send a permanent representative to the meeting.

MISSING, ONE EIGHTEEN-FOOT SHOW PYTHON

Toronto Exhibition Sideshow Officials Seek Perpetrator of Unique Theft

Canadian Press Toronto, Sept. 4.—A new era in thievery has dawned, if the suspicions of the proprietors of Jungland, at the Toronto Exhibition, are correct. They now declare someone has stolen their eighteen-foot python.

What, even the most eccentric and original of felons would want with such a thing as an eighteen feet of writhing, writhing snake was not clear until it was explained that the owners did not suspect professional thieves, but rather suspected someone who saw in the great serpent an opportunity of using it in a side-show.

In spite of the theft theory, however, the hunt for the absent exhibit was not entirely abandoned.

BIRTHS

TURNBULL—At the King's Daughters' Hospital, Victoria, B.C., to Mr. and Mrs. James B. Turnbull, September 2, 1930, a son.

JAMES—In loving memory of Henry James, who passed away Sept. 4, 1927.

We watched you suffer day by day. It caused us bitter grief. To see you slowly pine away. And could give you no relief. It was hard to lose you, Dad, dear. But God who knoweth best. Held you in his loving arms and said. Come unto Me and rest. Sadly missed by his wife, son and daughters.

Greek Lad Played Flute to Write Better Poetry

Pindar was a Greek boy of noble family. He was a very bright boy, and loved to study, especially poetry. When he was very young he began writing poetry himself, and the family was very proud of him. They were surprised when he announced one day that he wished to learn to play the flute. He wanted his father to buy a flute for him, and find a good musician to teach him to master it.

"You don't wish to be a musician, do you?" asked his father. "I thought your only love was poetry."

"Yes, that is why I wish to play the flute," said the boy earnestly. "There is always music in poetry, and if I understand music better, perhaps I will be a better poet."

The music of Pindar's poetry has made it famous all through the ages. It is still known for its beauty, though Pindar was born 2448 years ago to-day.

unemployment situation if carried out this winter. However, we are not certain at present the by-law will pass and I would not like to see the council in a position of having undertaken certain financial obligations which will be left on our hands if it does not pass," he said, moving that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare a by-law covering the total cost of expropriation and improvement immediately.

RECALLS PANDORA SCHEME
Alderman Worthington supported the resolution. About fifteen or twenty years ago, a project to widen Pandora Avenue was undertaken and there were still parcels of land lying idle and undeveloped along its sides, he said.

"I am inclined to agree," said Alderman Strath. "We should not commit the taxpayers to something which may be a load on them next year."

City Solicitor H. S. Pringle explained that, legally, it was not necessary for the council to ask leave of the ratepayers to take over the property.

Alderman Dewar—"But we have got to pay for it. I would like to have a mandate from the people to do so."

"You must remember we have been in this same position for the last eighteen months and up to now there has not been a dissenting voice," declared Mayor Anson. "We are confident the referendum will pass."

DIGGING DITCHES
"After careful consideration of the unemployment question," he continued, "I am certain the city will have to spend some money to relieve the situation this winter and this work would help to take care of it. If both the Dardanelles by-law and the Willow development by-law are defeated the city will again be in the ridiculous position of having to pay for digging ditches and filling them up again."

Alderman Mara pointed out that in any event, only a guess could be made at the cost of expropriation.

"But if the by-law were defeated after we expropriated the property, the land would lay idle. It will be easy to pass the expropriation by-law in ten minutes once we get the sanction of the people to go ahead with the work," Alderman Strath suggested. "I am strongly in favor of the by-law, but we should not be committed to it."

See Business Gain Backing Market
"The action of the market at this level is being watched with a great deal of interest and with the expectation that sufficient improvement in business will develop to enable the general market to advance above the previous resistance point as a number of leading stocks already have done," Mason and Dispecker say in their market comment to-day.

BLIND MEN ASK INQUIRY

Want Investigation Into Conditions in Vancouver Factory

Investigation of conditions existing in the factory for the blind in Vancouver by the provincial government, is sought by blind men. In a petition before the city council yesterday afternoon it was set out that blind people were not working under satisfactory conditions. The letter was signed by A. Varney and three others.

The council supported the petition for an investigation. Allegations are made that blind workers in the factory are very poorly paid and that salaries for officials and office rents eat up the larger part of the government and municipal grants made for the institution.

LINER WINS BATTLE WITH GREAT STORM

Because of storm warnings, the Cosmo had delayed sailing from San Juan for Santo Domingo a full day. During the early hours of yesterday the barometer went on a rampage, falling and falling and stopping at 27.75 because it could go no lower.

The ship was then four miles off Santo Domingo harbor. The sea was running too high to permit anchorage. Captain Evans cruised about, hoping for a calm.

Suddenly a strong off-shore wind and rain blotted out the island before the skipper's gaze. From then until afternoon the storm rose in intensity. Just before 1 p.m., the captain said, "I approached the centre of the disturbance."

"In all my years at sea I never have encountered more wind," Captain Evans said.

PASSENGER'S STORY
Victor Braeger, representative of the Maryland Casualty Company, of Baltimore in Porto Rico and Santo Domingo, describing the storm, said:

"At 1 o'clock, all of a sudden, the wind subsided as if by magic. We had reached the centre of the storm and an oasis of comparative calm."

"Mountainous waves were rolling past us. The ship became a haven for all kinds of sea birds seeking shelter. Clinging to the railing, ropes, canvas and window sills of the cabins, the birds seemed exhausted as if from a struggle of hours in the terrific gale."

"It was pitiful to see the birds making their desperate effort for life, losing their strength at length and being tossed again into the rising wind."

"During that period of comparative calm the atmospheric pressure was so great I thought my ears would burst. I had a distinct taste of blood in my mouth. Others experienced the same sensations. This lasted not more than half an hour. We seemed then to recover from the terror of the storm, but with new fear for the other half of the storm, through which we knew we must pass."

WORSE THAN BEFORE
"Surely enough, at 1:30 p.m., with a terrific pounding and slamming of wind and waves, we were driven right into the thick of it again. Only this time the intensity of the storm and the howling and hissing of wind and rain together seemed greater than before."

"The ship seemed to spring leaks everywhere. The water came in through the ceilings, doors, windows, broken skylights, and everywhere and nowhere. All you could see was here or there a flash of spray. The din was terrific. The ship would tip until it seemed it never could come right itself."

Braeger said that until they went through until that dark hour had ended was too terrible to describe. He said that all on board the Cosmo felt as if they had received a new lease of life when the wind began to slacken in mid-afternoon.

The Cosmo's holds were practically empty, containing only about ninety tons of cargo.

The wind pressure on the sides of the could not see the forecast from the ship was so terrific it blew the hatch coverings off. Nearly all the skylights were blown out. The ship was drenched inside and out.

Captain Evans said for five hours he had been at the helm, but otherwise undamaged.

MISSION WORK IS DISCUSSED

Victoria Presbytery Hears of Activities in Local Field During Forty Years

A sketch of his forty years' work with the Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church, with particular reference to his first visit to Sooke long ago, was given by Dr. Duncan Campbell, of New Westminster, the synod's committee convenor at this morning's session of the Presbytery of Victoria and Vancouver Island in St. Andrew's Church.

The speaker dealt with the development in the home mission field since his entrance into the work, and was highly satisfied with the progress being made.

Grants from the Home Mission Fund of Toronto, were discussed and approved by the Presbytery. They will continue the same as in 1929, with a reduction being made next March when the fiscal year will be ended.

Great interest was shown in the Port Renfrew Mission, where an extremely promising outlook was held in charge of the centre is the Rev. James Milroy, of Knox College, Toronto. With the extension of the road to this point, the organization expects to establish closer connections with the surrounding centres.

NEED MEETING HALL

The sessions will close this evening after the business meeting this afternoon.

Yesterday the Rev. John M. Turk, of Nanaimo, was elected moderator for the Presbytery. Rev. H. P. S. Luttrel, moderator last year, occupied the chair.

Some difficulty was being experienced at Port Alberni, where the Rev. T. McAllister was doing good work, but was suffering from the lack of a proper meeting hall. Other parts of the Island, it was noted, were self-supporting.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, Sept. 4.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

SEPTEMBER BUYING POINT

"The thought was expressed here yesterday that the market had given technical indication that it was about to interrupt its advance with an approximate two-point reaction before going higher. This two-point reaction was recorded in yesterday's market and that reaction, plus the moderate one in the closing part of the previous session, has now given us the normal day and a half reaction which interrupts from time to time even the strongest of bull markets."

"The important point at the moment is that this day and a half and approximate two-point setback provided us with what I believe will be about the best general buying point supplied by the market in the month of September. It is entirely normal that the check should be administered at this time, and even more normal that it should come at this point, the particular point referred to being the top of an accumulation some time and again it has been demonstrated that technically the market needs just such a setback to gain the technical strength, which permits it to advance into, if not new territory, then at least the territory which has not been occupied for a considerable period of time."

"Finally, psychologically the check is normal, since it comes at exactly the moment when the speculative mind

Cities Service Building Eight New Pump Stations

Construction is well under way on eight pump stations along the trunk line of the Texas Empire Company from Lima, Okla., to the Chicago refinery territory, Christy, Ill. & Co. announced today. The new stations are to supplement the eleven pump stations now in operation and will increase the capacity of the oil pipeline approximately 50 per cent. The estimated completion date is November 1. The Texas-Empire pipeline has been in operation since October 1, 1929. It is now delivering 50,000 barrels of crude oil daily to Lawrenceville, St. Louis, and Lamont in Illinois. Completion of the new stations will increase the capacity of the pipeline to approximately 75,000 barrels. Equipment for the new stations includes eighteen No. 8 four-stage centrifugal oil line pumps which are being manufactured by the Worthington Pump and Machinery Corporation. The pumps are designed to force a maximum of 94,000 barrels daily through a station. The pumps are the largest capacity centrifugals for pipeline service ever built in the United States.

PREPARATIONS RUSHED FOR M.P.'S TO MEET

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Sept. 4.—With the position of Speaker of the Senate filled, the likely Speaker of the House of Commons in the city, the party whips arriving to-day and another Cabinet meeting scheduled for this afternoon, preparations for the opening of Parliament on Monday are being speeded up. The Cabinet, which has met almost daily for some time, will discuss the legislative programme it hopes will alleviate unemployment and which will be laid before Parliament at the special session called for discussion of it.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, was expected to lead in the capital to-day after a trip to the constituency of East Kootenay, British Columbia, where he was accorded an acclamation. Yesterday Sir George E. Foster, who presided over the same department in several past sessions, celebrated his eighty-third birthday. He has spent many years in public life and is now a member of the Senate.

BLONDIEN SENATE SPEAKER
Hon. Pierre E. Blondin, of Montreal, yesterday afternoon was sworn in as Speaker of the Senate for the coming Parliament. He succeeds Hon. A. C. Hardy, who was chosen by the King Government following the death of Hon. Hewitt Bostock.

This office is not active as is the corresponding position in the House of Commons. The incumbent being appointed by the government, George Black, member-elect for the Yukon territory, who will be the government nominee for the presidency of the Commons, arrived in Ottawa yesterday and had a conference with Premier Bennett. The filling of the office of Speaker of the Commons will be the first business transacted on Monday after the House assembles at noon and before the formal opening ceremony, which will be held in the Senate.

The party whips were scheduled to arrive in Ottawa to-day to confer on the allocation of seats and make other preparations for the session.

DEPUTY SPEAKER

It is expected Armand Lavergne, K.C., member-elect for Montmagny, Que., will be elected Deputy-Speaker of the Commons.

A senior officer of the last House of Commons, the Sergeant-at-Arms, has withdrawn from that arena since the dissolution of the last parliament. H. W. Bowie will no longer shoulder the mace and attend to the internal discipline of the Commons. These duties have been assumed by Lieut.-Colonel H. J. Coghill, formerly of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and a member of the National Defence headquarters staff in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Shortly after the opening of Parliament next Monday the policy of the government in connection with unemployment and employment relief will be announced by Premier Bennett. Senator Oliver D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, has submitted to the Cabinet the recommendations of the Employment Service Council of Canada, together with a great deal of detailed information on the unemployment situation gathered from all parts of Canada.

Lengthy consideration has been given to the question at Cabinet meetings about the action the government proposed taking. Any proposals, he said, involved the spending of money would be announced by the Prime Minister himself on the floor of the House.

SIR L. BRASSEY SEES NOTABLE CHANGES HERE

Returns to Canada With Son After Absence of Twenty-five Years

Impressed by the Rockies scenically and by the immense prairie wheat belt of western Canada, Sir Leonard Brassey of London is in the city to-day. He is accompanied by his son, F. E. Brassey, who recently left Cambridge University and is seeing Canada for the first time.

"I was out here twenty-five years ago and remarkable changes have taken place in the interim," said Sir Leonard in an interview at the Empress Hotel to-day.

"This is a wonderful country with inestimable possibilities. Apart from the vast natural resources of the country, the mountains offer a remarkable scenic asset. I was tremendously impressed by the rugged grandeur of the Rockies during my stay at Banff and Lake Louise. It was much more than I had expected to see. I was tremendously impressed with pleasant memories of my stay in Canada."

TO VISIT GOVERNOR
Sir Leonard stated that he would be the guest of Viscount and Lady Willington at Ottawa on his way to Montreal to take passage to England.

He is in the British Commons as a Unionist for the Peterborough division of Northamptonshire from 1918 to 1929, and has seen considerable military service, being a major in the West Kent Yeomanry Cavalry, and also the Northamptonshire Yeomanry. He is the owner of 3,000 acres of land in England, with country residences at Apethorpe Hall, Peterborough, Northants, and Baites House, Bromham, Clippingham, Wilts.

From 1902 to 1908 he was senior steward of the Jockey Club.

SANTO DOMINGO IS DESTROYED BY GREAT STORM

The capital of the Dominican Republic, a city of nearly 50,000 population, was laid waste by the storm. Not until midday was communication restored with the stricken city, when the All-American Cables improvised a station in the island city by which first details of the horror began to reach the west.

The wind mounted to 100 miles an hour during the climax of the hurricane. Leaving a trail of ruin and almost sinking the Porto Rico Line steamship Coamo. The storm lashed its way toward the Florida Straits, but, latest advices said, swerved sharply northward, apparently passing out to sea and sparing lands farther to the west.

RELIEF MEASURES

Every agency of the United States government to-day was bent toward gauging the extent of the calamity and preparing for whatever relief measures might have to be taken.

The United States government is watching closely for new developments. The Navy Department awaited messages which would indicate the role it might play.

TO THE RED CROSS TO-DAY
The Red Cross to-day is requested from Minister Curtis at Santo Domingo to rush food, clothing, shelter and medical aid to Santo Domingo.

LITTLE IS LEFT

New York, Sept. 4.—The All-American cables announced that ninety-nine per cent of the city of Santo Domingo had been destroyed by the hurricane of yesterday. The company to-day installed emergency equipment to handle the critical situation.

GREAT LOSS

Havana, Sept. 4.—A report by wireless to the wire chief of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Havana from the Canadian steamship, the Lady Hawkins, anchored to-day at Kingston, Jamaica, said The Kingston Gleaser, a newspaper, reported deaths and an unknown amount of damage in Santo Domingo by hurricane.

REPORT BY PLANE

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 4.—The Radio Corporation of America to-day reported immense damage done at Santo Domingo city by yesterday's hurricane. The Corporation said a Pan-American airplane circling over the city reported traces of great destruction.

San Juan, Sept. 4.—Santo Domingo city to-day lay desolate from a hurricane that swept over the Dominican Republic yesterday. It is in urgent need of medical supplies and food. Almost the entire city is laid here to waste. The hurricane hit it early in the afternoon.

Its greatest violence was felt from about 3:30 p.m. After howling for four hours it moved northward, diagonally across the country, cutting a wide swath of destruction. Damage is estimated in millions of dollars, but no accurate report yet has been received. I arrived twenty miles south of here by automobile to-day after leaving Port au Prince, Haiti, last night. I continued by horseback and am pushing on to Santo Domingo City.

DALLAS IS READY TO GREET FLIERS

People of Texas City Prepare to Give Welcome to Coste and Bellonte

Two Frenchmen Wing Their Way From New York to Win Prize

Canadian Press
Dallas, Texas, Sept. 4.—The tricolor of France and the United States flag floated together over Dallas to-day as a thrilled city suspended normal activities to give a traditional Texas welcome to Captain Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, French air voyagers who conquered the Atlantic.

This city was the rendezvous of airmen throughout the southwest who winged their way here to participate in the welcome of the Frenchmen, flying to Dallas from New York to collect a purse of $25,000 offered by Col. William E. Easterwood, now in Dublin.

CONVOY OF PLANES

Fifteen army planes from Kelly Field, San Antonio, were in the convoy assembled here to greet the two Frenchmen. A commodore who once met hazards far different from fog and storms in company with the French air plane to welcome him. He is R. de Franc, member of Captain Coste's wartime squadron, now a resident of San Antonio.

SEEN OVER CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Sept. 4.—Flying fast, an airplane believed to be the transatlantic Question Mark, carrying Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, was seen over Cincinnati to-day at 11:57 a.m. E.S.T. and headed for Louisville.

MANAGER GOES AHEAD

Valley Stream, N.Y., Sept. 4.—Preceded by their business manager, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte took off at 6:55 this morning for Dallas, Texas, to collect a $25,000 prize offered by William Easterwood.

The big red seagull plane Question Mark, which made the first westward crossing of the North Atlantic from Paris to New York, circled once over the city and then headed for its southern destination.

Nine minutes before the transatlantic plane took the air another ship hopped off with Rene Racover, Coste's United States representative, who planned to attend to the transatlantic fliers' business affairs in connection with collecting the Easterwood prize and acting as a guide for the first flight from Paris to Dallas with New York as the only intermediate stop. The take-off of the French fliers for the Texas city was delayed an hour by the necessity of constructing a special device for spinning the propeller, which is set so high that it is very difficult for mechanics standing on the ground to start the engine. The device failed, but the motor was started by volunteers who risked their lives by leaping into the air to hang on the high propeller blades.

1930 SALMON PACK IS HEAVY

Vancouver, Sept. 4.—A total salmon pack of 1,578,000 cases for the period ended August 30, far in excess of recent years, is reported in the canned salmon bulletin of the Department of Fisheries to-day. Of this total, 385,543 cases are the prime Sockeye variety. Pinks make up 1,023,142 cases and the third highest type is the total of 56,785 cases of Cohoes canned.

The total pack at this date is higher than at the corresponding date of 1928, 1926 and 1925, when approximately 1,000,000 cases were reported.

For Sockeye the pack that nearest compares with the present total for a corresponding period was the 378,229 cases put up in 1925.

SKEENA LEADS

In the total number of cases reported, Skeena River led, with 378,229 cases, followed by the Fraser River, which reported 317,086 cases and the latter 303,741 cases. Skeena River and Fraser River led in the canning of 192,717 and 100,859 cases of Sockeye respectively. Smith Inlet reported the largest number of pinks in 331,100 cases.

Fishing of Sockeye in District No. 1, Fraser River, has not yet reached its full height. To date the total there is 43,847 cases.

New Westminster, Sept. 4.—The Sockeye run gathering at the mouth of the Fraser River and off Point Roberts is reported to be good. It is not expected far up the river for a week or two. Catches off Point Grey have averaged 100 Sockeye to the boat, with thirty of the headlands.

government meteorologist—here, at 10:30 a.m. to-day, issued the following statement regarding the West Indian hurricane:

"The tropical disturbance which passed over the Dominican Republic Wednesday afternoon, attended by winds greatly in excess of 100 miles per hour, appears moving northwestward toward the southern islands of the Bahama group. If the storm continues to move in this direction, it probably will cause strong winds over extreme south Carolina Friday night. Further advices will be given out to-day and to-night."

The Dominican Republic, of which Santo Domingo is capital, occupies the western two-thirds of the island of Haiti. The republic has an area of 10,300 square miles and a population in excess of 1,000,000. Santo Domingo in 1921 had a population of 40,857. It was founded in 1496 and is the oldest existing settlement of white men in the new world.

The city stands on a promontory and has a rather poor harbor. Most of the houses are massive, of stone, and are pierced with huge windows and doors.

The island frequently is visited by hurricanes. Some storms have taken a considerable life and property toll.

STEVENS AND BENTLY SKIP BAIL TO-DAY

Men Charged With Vagrancy and Believed Implicated in "Buncoing" Gone

Louis C. Bently and George Stevens, arrested on charges of vagrancy and released on bail of $100 each, this morning failed to appear in the City Police Court. Bail was arrested and warrants issued for their arrest.

Five hundred dollars' bail was originally set for the men suspected in connection with the alleged McLean "bunco" case. When the amount was lowered the accused skipped.

During his last appearance in court Bently heard the evidence of Detective Phipps to the effect Stevens had been about to join Bently and McLean, but left upon hearing that police officials were in his room.

Many articles of questionable nature, including a letter to "make hay while the sun shines," were found in the room.

TELLS ACTION OF RADIUM ON DREAD CANCER

If, owing to weakness of other cells, they spread through the blood streams and multiplied they formed a cancer.

SMALL START

"One thing to always remember is that every cancer, which ultimately kills you, was at one stage a single microscopic cell, which, arrested at this stage, would have been harmless, said the speaker. "Even as a tumor, when there are millions of cells it can be stopped. To a certain extent, therefore, cancer deaths are due to carelessness, broadly speaking."

Dr. Burgess went on to explain how it was sometimes impossible to detect cancer until it was in its latter stages. Campaigns to inform the public of cancer symptoms would do a lot to help prevent it.

SHOULD BE MORE PAINFUL

"There is an idea that cancer is a very painful disease. The trouble with cancer is that it is not painful enough because if it were more painful people would realize they had it before it was too late," he declared. "It is cancerous in the early stages, many lives could be saved."

The speaker went on to describe how the human body defended itself against cancer.

"The ultimate victory over cancer will have to be by injection of vaccines or serum to drive out the 'cancerous' cells. Of this I am satisfied," he declared.

At present, however, the only methods were removal of the cancer bodily and checking it through radium. In the case of removing the cancer, a cure was effected if parts beyond the reach of the surgeon's knife were unaffected, he said. But this was not quite enough, as a gap between the affected area and the sound area of the body had to be eliminated. Therefore such an operation was always a big one.

DOES NOT COME BACK

Cancer did not come back, after an operation as some people thought, he said. If cancer returned after an operation it was because all the cancer cells had not been removed. Therefore a cancer which "came back" had really never been away.

Turning to the question of radium and cancer, Dr. Burgess referred to the discovery of radium by Madame Curie, as one of the greatest shocks to the scientific world. He explained the action of radium, which is constantly in a state of atomic change, eventually all radium, costing $60,000 a grain, would be reduced to common lead, although this action took hundreds of years. In its atomic action radium set up a number of vibrations in the ether, known as wavelengths. It was always giving off energy, and therefore could be looked upon as a tremendous power, working night and day at 100 per cent efficiency.

RADIUM RAYS

It was the "gamma rays" given off by radium which were useful in the treatment of cancer. These rays, while affecting all cells in the body, had a greater effect on rapidly growing cells. Therefore they were effective particularly against cancer cells. The whole trouble in dealing with cancer by radium was in deciding the proper dose to kill the cancer cells and save the minimum effect on the other body cells. Only years of trial and experiment had succeeded in arriving at the proper ratio.

DANGER OF HANDLING

In stressing the danger of radium, Dr. Burgess referred to the method by which the Radium Trust in England controlled its use for scientific purposes.

"In using radium for cancer you are in a difficult position. If too much is used, both the cancer and the patient may be killed. If too little is used, an immunative effect to a second dose is given. Thirdly, if radium does not kill a cancer, it may have the opposite effect, irritating the cancer," he explained.

Discussing the action of radium on cancer, Dr. Burgess pointed out that while he had used the expression "killing the cancer cell," it was probably a more complicated action, rather being a deterrent to the cancer cell as well as setting up a defensive action in the sound cells.

As far as primary growths of cancer were concerned they could be cured by the knife or by radium.

As the knife must leave a scar, radium was the more popular of the two. Cancer of the tongue was a case where radium was best as a person might lose half the tongue by the knife. However, there was to be considered the ultimate result. Would a cancer treated by radium be still cured ten or fifteen years later? This had to be decided.

Dr. Burgess went on to explain the method of securing radium. Forty tons of ore were necessary to produce one grain of radium. Men were only employed in production for six months, and were never re-employed, owing to the danger.

P. B. Fowler, president of the Canadian Club, extended a welcome to the members of the British Medical Society and, in introducing the speaker, paid high tribute to his reputation as an expert in cancer research.

How Can a Man Judge a Wife Before Marriage?
Shall the Girl Who Is the Sole Support of Her Family
Nevertheless Marry the Poor Man She Loves?

DEAR MISS DIX—How can a fellow tell whether the pretty young stenographer whom he considers leading to the altar will make a good housekeeper or not? He has no chance to go sneaking around her kitchen to see if she likes to help mamma and he has to accept on faith the delicious cake that she said she made with her own hands. By what signs can you know that she doesn't positively hate children, as I have heard some women say they did. Must a man enter marriage with such important matters left in the dark? Your advice that one should exercise as much judgment in choosing a wife as in buying a car, is not practicable because the facts are not as obtainable in one case as they are in the other.

CYNICAL YOUNG MAN.
Answer—How come? Of course, you have to take something on faith in every transaction because it is not possible to reduce anything to an absolute certainty. In picking out a car, for instance, no matter how carefully you examine its mechanism, there is always a possibility that there may be an unsuspected flaw in the steel of which it is made, or some mistake made in the assembling of the parts.

But if you use good judgment in selecting your car, there is not much danger of your not getting your money's worth and right here I am tempted to say that as you are largely guided in buying a car by its make, you will be equally wise in selecting a wife by the family she comes from.

By which I mean to say that a girl who comes from good, honest, self-respecting stock is just as sure to make you a good wife as a high-grade automobile is certain to make you a good car. There are manufacturers whose name on a car is a guarantee of its worth, and a fine mother puts her stamp on her daughter.

You wouldn't buy a second-hand car and expect to get the mileage out of it that you would out of a new one. You wouldn't buy a damaged car that has been in all sorts of wrecks and smash-ups on whoopee parties and expect it to be as fine and strong as one that you have just taken out of the shop and that had never been used. You wouldn't expect a flimsy little light car to stand the strain and do the work of a high-powered truck.

Then don't be silly enough to marry a wild girl, and one with a tarnished reputation, and expect her never to look at any man but you and to be satisfied to settle down to domesticity. Don't marry a fool and expect her to be wise. Don't marry a frivolous, dress-crazy girl and expect her to be thrifty, and to want to spend her time juggling pots and pans. Don't buy a flivver and expect it to turn into a Rolls-Royce. Such miracles never take place.

But it is foolish for a man to say that he cannot prognosticate what sort of wife a girl will make. She tells him that every day in every way and he must be as blind as a bat and stupid beyond belief if he doesn't get the tips she hands him.

Keep your eyes open, son, and observe. Will Mary Anne be a nagger? How does she treat you now? Is she forever correcting you and finding fault with the way you have your hair cut and the kind of a hat you wear and the color of your necktie?

When you take her to a place of amusement, is there always something wrong about the seats or the programme or the people next to her? Is she always too hot or too cold or too something? Does she never let a thing rest, but says it over to you a thousand times? Does she harp upon the same topic forever and a day?

Will Mary Anne make a selfish wife? You don't have to marry to find that out. Observe whether she always considers her pleasure or yours, whether you do what she wants to do or what you want to do. Notice whether she runs you into debt for amusements, or saves your money.

Will Mary Anne want a family or a Pekinese pup? One look at her face when she sees a baby will settle that question. If little children run to her, and her arms instinctively form themselves into a cradle, then she will want babies of her own, but if she draws away from sticky little fingers and regards children as brats, her husband will walk the dog of an evening instead of cuddling his children about his knees.

DAILY HEALTH SERVICE

Too Much Water in the Body Is Just As Bad as Lack of It

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Just as a person may be seriously sick from a lack of water in the body, a disturbance of his water metabolism may bring about a superfluity of fluid. The condition has been called dropsy by the public. It frequently represents a late stage of a condition that may be checked if seen early, but is handled with difficulty when it is late. Before there is recognizable swelling of the skin, due to accumulation of water in the body, the patient may accumulate enough fluid to add several pounds to his weight. Thus the physician is likely to be suspicious of gains in weight which cannot be accounted for in any other way.
If a person is accumulating extra fluids in his body, his skin usually has a shiny, transparent appearance, and, to use the jargon of the profession, "it pits on pressure." By this is meant the fact that when the finger is pushed against the skin, depression or pitting is produced which remains for some time after the pressure has been removed. The pitting feel distinctly doughy. If the condition of edema has persisted for many months, the skin is thickened and pits with difficulty.
Swelling of various portions of the body due to accumulations of water may be due to a variety of causes. For instance, if the heart is unable to pump the blood to the ends of the blood vessels and back again to the heart, fluid begins to accumulate in the lower part of the body. If the person has a job like that of motorman or salesclerk which compels him or her to be on her feet all day, the legs and feet will be found edematous. If the person is inactive and in bed, the thighs and hips may be the parts most affected. Within the body itself the liver may be swollen and fluid may accumulate in the abdominal cavity.

In an earlier day before the mechanism was understood, it was customary to remove great quantities of fluid by tapping, and because the mechanism was not changed in any way, fluid that was removed was promptly replaced by new fluid. Operations have been developed for controlling this matter, but far more important is the treating of the diseased organ or tissue fundamentally responsible. I must be understood that the swelling is due to an accumulation of water is a symptom and not a disease. It is important to know whether it is due to the heart or to the kidneys that are failing to function, and this can be determined only by the most efficient scientific investigation. When the fact is finally known, it is possible by controlling the diet, by controlling the fluid intake, by the use of sweating, particularly, and by various other methods to bring about control.

MINISTER MAKES TOUR OF MINES

Developments By Large Companies Impress Hon. W. A. McKenzie

Continued development by large mining corporations and their search for new properties provide sound reasons for optimism in British Columbia, says Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, who has just returned from a tour of the Kootenay mining area. The Minister in company with the Deputy Minister, Robert Dunn, visited the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's mine and concentrator at Kimberley and the smelter at Trail. They visited Nelson where they met the directors of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia. Slocan, Altonvale, Kelso, New Denver and Slocan City were also visited. At Creston under the direction of Fred Lister, M.P.P., the Minister and his deputy were shown over fruit ranches. W. M. Archibald, superintendent of mines for the Consolidated, and E. G. Montgomery, superintendent of the Sullivan mine and mill, gave Mr. McKenzie and members of his party every opportunity to witness their company's operations at Kimberley.

Sir Harry Lauder Has Birthday

Sir Harry Lauder, the comedian, was sixty on August 3, and he entertained one hundred of his old friends to luncheon at his home at Dunoon, Argyllshire, Scotland. On the huge birthday cake, which was surmounted by a sugar statuette of Sir Harry, were the words: "May you keep right on to the end of the road, 1870-1930. With best wishes." Sir Harry Lauder said: "I may all think well of the feast I have passed, for it's the last I'll get until I'm ninety. It will take me thirty years to recover the expense." "The real things in life are the simple things, I discovered early in my career that there were more but-ter-buns in the world than castles and palaces, and I went with the majority."

ZANE GREY STORY STARS JACK HOLT WITH FAY WRAY

Zane Grey's thrilling, romantic west is brought vividly to the all-talking screen in Paramount's latest gripping drama of the outdoors, "The Border Legion," which is showing at the Dominion Theatre, starting to-day. Richard Arlen is the hero of the story; Fay Ray is the heroine, and Jack Holt, that beloved portrait of Zane Grey, western roles, is his own swaggering handsome self as the leader of the daring robber band. Arlen has the role of Jim Cleave, a young cowboy who, through the operation of frontier justice, is forced to become a member of Jack Holt's ruthless group of desperadoes. Arlen is making a new name for himself in these popular roles. As the hero of "The Light of Western Stars" and the pathetic Steve of "The Virginian," Arlen gave his best characterizations on the screen. In "The Border Legion," he has a stronger role.

AT THE THEATRES

CLARA BOW STARS AT THE CAPITOL IN CLEVER COMEDY

"Rarin' to Go!" Clara Bow and a gang of Paramount's most convincing comedians, including Mimi Green, Skeets Gallagher and Stuart Erwin, the dumb Axel of "Sweetie," are showing at the Capitol Theatre, for three days, in one of the "It" girl's biggest hits, "Love Among the Millionaires." Full of real redheaded pepper and throbbing love, "Love Among the Millionaires" is really Clara Bow's first musical-romance. Introduced effectively as a screen singer, of note in "Paramount on Parade," and then in "True to the Navy," Clara now steps forth as "New Anna Held," gloriously radiant with a voice that puts a quartet of hot hit ballads over as no other could. "Rarin' to Go!" is only one of them, but this song, a real jazzy dance number, probably gives the greatest play to the Bow personality. Then "Believe It or Not, I've Found My Man," is a joyous lyric of the scorch type. Clara follows this with a rendition of the radio riot, "That's Worth While Waiting For." The theme song of the picture, "That's Love Among the Millionaires," is her fourth number.

"BORDER ROMANCE" WITH POPULAR CAST AT THE PLAYHOUSE

A story of love and adventure south of the Rio Grande is told in "Border Romance," the Tiffany all-talking outdoor drama with music showing at the Playhouse Theatre to-day. Don Terry and Armida are the hero and heroine of the story, an original by John Francis Natteford. Vic Potel and Marjorie Kane supply the comedy and other important roles are played by Wesley Barry, Harry von Meter, Wita Marten and J. Frank Glendon. The recording is by RCA Photophone and Richard Thorpe directed and Lester Scott supervised. "Border Romance" is the story of a young horse trader's adventure in love. He has his herd of horses stolen and it is while in pursuit of the leader of the gang that he runs into a beautiful Mexican girl and steals her heart.

FAMOUS CANINE STAR HAS LEAD AT THE COLUMBIA

Fate's whims are accountable for many odd changes in the lives of dogs. Fate directed that Les Duncan should come to the shattered French house where Rin-Tin-Tin, newly born, lay with the rest of the whimpering litter. They made him the most famous dog in the world—his most famous rivals being Strongheart and Peter the Great. Strongheart died from natural causes not long ago and Peter the Great was accidentally shot while seated in the rear seat of an automobile. Rin-Tin-Tin is just starting on a tour of the world with his master-trainer, Lee Duncan.

In "Rough Waters," latest Warner Bros. and Vitaphone picture, now at the Columbia Theatre, Rinty is seen as the "companion" of a young motorcycle officer, accompanying him on his rounds seated comfortably on a little platform constructed behind the motorcycle seat. When his master runs afoul of a gang of bandits Rinty is at hand to lend enthusiastic assistance in running the thugs to earth.

MAURICE CHEVALIER IN "THE BIG POND" NOW SHOWING HERE

France and North America are liberally represented in "The Big Pond," Paramount's comedy-drama with music which is now showing at the Coliseum Theatre.

The star is Maurice Chevalier, former idol of Paris. He plays the part of an ambitious Frenchman who makes good in a chewing gum factory. The leading lady is Claudette Colbert. She plays the role of a daughter of wealth who meets Chevalier while traveling in Venice. Miss Colbert was born in Paris and lived there until her early teens when she came to New York. "The Big Pond" was directed by Hobart Henley, who directed "The Lady Lies" and "Roadhouse Nights." The original play on which the picture is based was written by George Middleton and A. E. Thomas. The screen continuity is the product of Robert Presnell and Garrett Fort. The dialogue was written by Preston Sturges. "The Big Pond" is Chevalier's third picture. It follows his successes in "Innocents of Paris" and "The Love Parade."

FAMOUS DIRECTOR BEGAN CAREER AS GAMMAN IN COMEDY

Archie Mayo who directed "Vengeance," the Columbia all-talking drama of the Congo coming to the Playhouse Theatre next week, determined that he would get into the movies in any capacity. He obtained extra work and as soon as he got the hang of things, put himself over as a gamman on the two-reel comedy lots. Jack White was one of the first to recognize his possibilities and for him Archie staged forty comedies. After this he broke in on directing.
